Rocket Plane Gives U.S. Space Race Lead

Antarctic Party Tries to Reach Wrecked Plane

Auckland, New Zealand — An Antarctic rescue party battled across 30 miles of rugged icefields in a blinding blizzard today toward a crashed U.S. Air Force plane.

Six of the 13 crewmen were reported to have died in the crash and two of the seven survivors were believed injured, one critically.

The huge 4-engine C124 Globemaster crashed this morning near the joint U.S.-New Zealand station at Cape Hallett in the Antarctic.

A rescue party set out from the station, and aircraft from the main U.S. base 400 miles to the south at McMurdo sound were trying to reach the scene.

Right-Wingers Call Off Algiers Strike

De Gaulle Wins Complete Victory in North Africa

It was a resounding victory for De Gaulle in a showdown with his former supporters in this North African territory.

The vast forum square where right-wingers called a protest demonstration was empty at the appointed hour. It was ringed with troops and fire trucks.

The strike and demonstration were hastily called off after leaders of the badly split public safety committee held a showdown conference with De Gaulle's representative, Gen. Raoul Salan, the top military and civilian commander here.

Jehovah's Witnesses Accused of Working Against Chinese

Tokyo — Peiping radio reported today the arrest in Shanghai of five Jehovah's Witnesses and banning of the religious sect.

The five—two Britons and three Chinese—were accused of trying to wreck red China's "socialist construction."

The charge was denied in New York by the head of the sect, which sent the Britons to China in 1947.

No Word on Fate

The Britons are Stanley Ernest Jones and Harold George King, the only foreign missionaries of the Jehovah's Witnesses in communist China.

Peiping gave no immediate indication of what will become of them or of the three Chinese.

Other missionaries in red China have been sentenced to long prison terms for various alleged offenses. At least one is still under lenient house arrest in Shanghai.

Peiping radio said the group headed by Jones and King "was by no means a religious organization, but an imperialist base for subversive and disruptive activities."

Nixon Hails X-15 as Great Major Step

Los Angeles — The air force, the navy and the new civilian space agency have proudly trumpeted the forerunner of tomorrow's space vehicle out into public view.

Vice President Nixon yesterday called the new rocket-powered X-15 a "major step in man's greatest adventure in exploration beyond our world—the first and logical step in space exploration."

"With the X-15 following the Pioneer (moon-rocket satellite), Americans can proudly say that the United States has recaptured the lead that we have moved into first place in the race to outer space," Nixon said at rollout ceremony for new space probe. He added:

"We are on threshold of even more exciting adventures into space, of which X-15's but one manifestation."

"X-15 is perhaps most exciting because of the fact that it is designed to carry man into space for the first time."

Babylon, N. Y. — A military transport plane with seven men aboard crash-landed on a busy highway last night, smashing into three cars during a wild skid and fatally injuring a motorist.

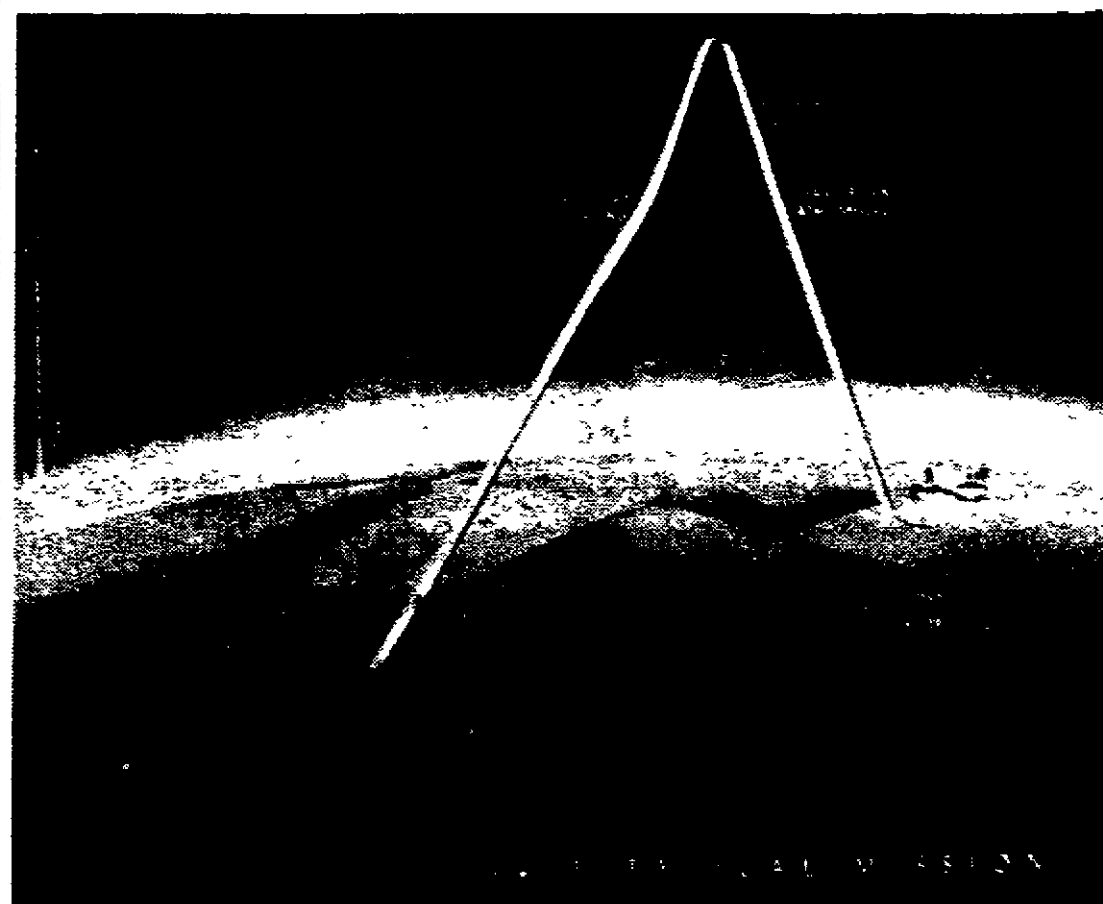

The twin-engine C123 ran out of gas and swooped down on the 4-lane southern state parkway. Skidding hundreds of feet, it ripped through an underpass and struck three cars before stopping in flames.

Harold J. Schneider of West Islip, N. Y., one of the motorists, died of head injuries shortly after the accident.

Three air force personnel and two women motorists suffered minor injuries. The crash backed up traffic for miles on the Parkway, in Suffolk county on Long Island.

The plane had been trying to land at Zahn's airport, about a half-mile from the crash scene.

A Typical Flight Planned for the X-15 rocket ship is shown in this drawing. The plane is designed to climb upwards to possibly 400 miles above the earth and then glide back to a landing at Edwards Air Force base, Calif., if all goes well.

3 Bandits Seize Payroll Cash From Brewery Cashier

Toledo, Ohio — Three men, timing their crime perfectly just after a delivery by a Brinks armored truck, robbed the cashier of the Buckeye Brewing Co. offices today and escaped in a car with approximately $84,000 in payroll money.

Tipped on the license plates on the car, police traced it to a residence here and surrounded the house, but it appeared later that the plates used had been stolen from another auto.

Richard Smith, general manager of the brewery, said one of the men was waiting in an anteroom with three customers when the Brinks guards handed a bag containing money to the cashier, Tony Carlos.

As Carlos started up the stairs to put the cash in a second-floor vault, the man snarled "this is it!" and grabbed the money.

At the same time, an armed accomplice appeared at the door of the anteroom. The two robbers fled to a car which a third accomplice had kept running outside.

Smith said the customers and two other office employees were unaware of what was taking place.

Witnesses spotted the license number of the fleeing getaway car and reported it to police.

Red Planes Pose Threat To Wuchius

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Taipei — Four communist planes flew over the tiny Wuchiu islands today, raising speculation on Formosa that the reds might try to seize nationalist outposts midway between Quemoy and Matsu to offset their failure to invade Quemoy.

The Wuchius lie in the Formosa strait 15 miles from the mainland 80 miles from Formosa. One of the two islands, Wuchiu, is 128 acres, and the other, Little Wuchiu, is 57.6 acres.

The Chinese nationalists use them as a lookout post. At one time they were a base for commando raids to capture prisoners on the mainland who might provide intelligence and also were a staging post for nationalist agents slipping in and out of red China.

Returns to Mainland

The nationalist defense ministry said four red planes circled over the Wuchius for 26 minutes in mid-morning, then returned to the mainland.

Observers on Formosa thought the reds might calculate they could capture the islands with relative ease, then trumpet their victory as the first step toward their long-promised capture of Formosa.

Nationalist quarters are convinced an attack on the Wuchius would mean the communists feel desperately in need of a victory to counter President Chiang Kai-shek's claim to have won the recent round at Quemoy.

Priest Sentenced by East German Court

Berlin — An East German court has sentenced a Catholic priest, Father Kaplan Hugo Hermes, to 18 months imprisonment on charges of possessing West German books.

A "Human Factors Dummy" models the aluminized coverall space suit to be worn by the men who will fly the X-15 rocket ship in its exploration of the fringes of space. The suit is resistant to extremes of heat and cold and is pressurized to keep the pilot from exploding should there be loss of cabin pressure.

Say 2 Quiz Shows May be Dropped

New York — Two of television's top quiz shows, "Twenty-One" and "The $64,000 Question," may be dropped shortly as an aftermath of probes into alleged answer-rigging, according to reports published today.

The New York Journal-American said the ax may fall on "Twenty-One" after tonight's performance.

The Journal-American also said that there were widely circulating reports CBS was planning to drop "The $64,000 Question."

Unmanned Locomotive Plunges Into Swamp

Ashland — Chicago and North Western Railway officials have a big problem on their hands today: how to remove a giant steam locomotive from the swamp into which it plunged after a wild unmanned trip.

The streamlined locomotive broke loose from its storage position at the North Western roundhouse here Tuesday night, passed through two heavily traveled intersections and came to a halt with its nose buried in the swamp at a coal dock yards.

Bourguiba Proclaims He Will Maintain His Link With West

Tunis — President Habib Bourguiba defiantly threw in his lot with the west today in a bitter attack on the United Arab Republic. He broke diplomatic relations with the U. A. R. yesterday.

"Yes, I am western," Bourguiba told the Tunisian constituent assembly explaining his move. "and I will remain so."

The president of the young North African republic did not mention President Nasser by name, but he ripped into Nasser policies.

Ready for Test

Bourguiba bluntly said the Egyptians had collaborated in an assassination plot against him.

"The primary enemy, one has the habit of saying, is Israel," Bourguiba said. "However, why is it that this state (Israel) is quiet while the Arabs are killing one another."

Stiffest Credit Restraints in Over 12 Years Clamped on Stock Market

Latest Action Means Investors Must Put Up $90 in Cash for Every $100 Worth of Stock Bought

Washington — (AP) — The federal reserve board today put into effect the stiffest stock market credit restraints in nearly 12 years. The board's purpose: To discourage speculation with borrowed money.

The board announced late yesterday plans to increase to 90 per cent the margin, or minimum down payment, required on purchases of stocks. The minimum margin had been 70 per cent since Aug. 5, when it was raised from 50 per cent.

Highest Margin

The latest action means investors henceforth must put up at least $90 in cash for every $100 of stock they buy. It does not have any retroactive effect on stocks bought when margins were lower.

Only once before have margins been this high—when they were 100 per cent in the first year after World War II. Wall street had been expecting an increase and some stock analysts said they believed the action had been discounted in advance. The market reached an all-time high Monday but prices fell in heavy trading Tuesday and yesterday.

Some stocks rose on the Los Angeles exchange, which was still open when the announcement was made.

When the reserve board raises margins, the aim is to prevent excessive use of credit in the stock market. One reason is that if too much borrowed money moves into the market, that much less money is available for use by borrowers in other sectors of the economy.

Exchange Credit

G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock exchange, said last night credit on that exchange totals $3,100,000,000. He said this is only 1.3 per cent of the total

One of Three Cars Wrecked by a military transport plane that crash-landed on Long Island's busy Southern State parkway near Babylon, N. Y., is jammed against the fuselage of the twin-engine C123. The "for sale" sign in the car window adds a note of irony. The plane ran out of gas and the pilot landed on the parkway to avoid hitting houses in the area. One man in another car was fatally injured.

Episcopal Church Stands for New Method of Teaching

Authorization Given to Continue Developing, Improving Technique

Miami Beach, Fla. — (AP) — A new look in Sunday school teaching—centered on childhood experiences and not just Bible verses—has firm support from the Episcopal general convention.

The program has been under fire from some elements in the church as slighting scriptural details.

Improve Method

But a move in the church's house of deputies yesterday to junk the whole technique was overwhelmingly defeated, and

Horses Stampede Over Man's Car

Troutdale, Ore. — (AP) — A Troutdale motorist yesterday told of a terrifying experience — his car was run down by 13 stampeding horses.

Don Hibbard said he was driving the car along a highway in the John Day country of eastern Oregon last Saturday night. Suddenly he saw 13 wild horses bearing down on him.

"When I saw hooves crumbling the hood, I dived under the dashboard," he said.

After the horses had galloped on down the highway, Hibbard got out of his car to confront a lone horseman. The horseman said he was driving the animals down the mountain and that when they got to the highway, they stampeded.

The horses apparently were not injured, but it cost $260 to repair Hibbard's damaged car.

Election Signal

Stove Used to Burn Ballots Can't be Found in Vatican

Vatican City. — (AP) — The stove is gone. And a mighty important stove it is too.

Workmen looked everywhere, in the Vatican warehouses and outside. But they could not find it.

This stove is used to signal the outcome of votes at papal conclaves in the Sistine chapel.

Smoke Signal

It was a stove that had been used as long as anyone can remember for the burning of ballots. Smoke escaped through its chimney thrust through a window.

If the cardinals failed to agree on a new pope, a little wet straw was mixed with the ballots. That produced a gray smoke. People watching from St. Peter's square knew the cardinals had failed to elect a pontiff.

If two-thirds of the cardinals plus one voted for a pope, then the ballots were burned without straw. The result was white smoke. To the crowds in the square, that meant a new pope had been elected.

Stored In Warehouse

Now today there is no stove, and no one has an idea what happened to it.

The stove was used only during conclaves. In between it was taken from the Sistine chapel and returned to a warehouse. It was last used in 1939 and presumably had been stored away after that conclave elected Pope Pius XII. Possibly, it was just misplaced.

"It's hard to think that someone would steal it," a Vatican official said.

Says He'll Not Use Any More Kamp Writing

State Candidate Declares He Didn't Know Background

Milwaukee — (AP) — A Wisconsin Republican congressional candidate who admitted using pamphlets by extremist Joseph Kamp, said Wednesday that in the light of information on Kamp's background he would have nothing more to do with the writings.

The declaration was made by Charles Hornbeck of Eau Claire, who seeks election from the Ninth district. Hornbeck said last week he had used Kamp material because he thought it would "stir up interest in the election."

"Unfortunately I did not know Kamp or anything about his background," Hornbeck said. "Since then it seems evident that Kamp has been responsible for smear tactics and anti-Semitism. I want it perfectly understood that I shall have nothing to do with him or his pamphlets."

Game Probe

A call for an investigation "of Wisconsin's conservation commission" was made Wednesday night by Gaylord Nelson, Democratic candidate for governor. In a Milwaukee appearance he proposed a probe by "an impartial panel of career conservationists, sportsmen and scientists." He said they should be given "complete access to all state records."

Nelson said Republican incumbent Gov. Thomson has been "stumbling around, hoping some kind of miracle will restore Wisconsin's once-famous reputation as a sportsmen's paradise."

Roland Steinle, Republican candidate for the U. S. senate, Wednesday night renewed his charge that Sen. Proxmire, D-Wis., "has been extremely vague about his stand on foreign policies."

Stand For America

"I ask him to make it known whether he is going to go along with what the gangsters in the Kremlin want or adjust Biblical content and whether he is going to stand up for America and for the free world against the threat of communism."

Proxmire, in a radio address at Wausau offered a $100 reward to anyone "who can disprove that the total effect of my legislative program was to reduce taxes sharply and cut the Eisenhower budget."

He said critics have failed to dispute a single statement of his program "because they can't."

Father Sees Boy in Emergency Room; Finds It Is His Own Son

Charleston, S.C. — (AP) — "That looks like my son," cried Ben Scott as a small boy was wheeled into the hospital's emergency room.

Scott, awaiting treatment for a hand injured at work, sprang from a surgical table and ran into the adjoining room. He fainted when he realized the motionless form actually was his 6-year-old son, Randolph. The boy, struck by a car, died a short time later.

British Official Killed on Cyprus

Nicosia, Cyprus — (AP) — A British civilian official was shot dead by an unidentified gunman today.

The shooting occurred in Kokkino Trimithia village about 10 miles from Nicosia and near a Greek Cypriot detention camp. The victim was the tenth British fatality on this troubled island since Oct. 1 and the 124th since the beginning of Eoka rebel activity in April, 1955.

British security forces clamped a new curfew on Greek Cypriots in Nicosia this morning after renewed violence erupted.

Ullman Quads Doing Fine, Doctor Says

Detroit — (AP) — Michigan's Ullman quadruplets will be taken home when their weight reaches five pounds each.

Doctors at Northwest Grace hospital where Helen, Martha, Marion and Catherine were born Sunday night said the little girls should make the required weight in three or four weeks. The doctors said the quads were doing "exceptionally well."

The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ullman of suburban Clawson.

Nixon Says GOP Party Surging Toward Upset Victory in November

Vice President Sees Political Shocker in Making for America

Los Angeles — (AP) — The Republican party is surging toward an upset victory at the polls in November, says Vice President Nixon.

Nixon told 2,000 GOP campaign workers last night that the biggest political shocker since Harry Truman's unexpected victory in 1948 is in the making.

"This is 1948 in reverse," he said. "The Democrats think they've got it made. They've been reading the polls — and believing them. They're playing it safe."

Playing to Win

Well, we're playing it hard. We're playing to win, and we're going to win."

Earlier in San Francisco, Nixon told a press conference that to win, the Republicans could not let Democratic criticism of administration policies go unanswered.

"I think one reason the Republican party is in trouble is that it has allowed criticism to go by without making effective reply," he said.

He said he considered President Eisenhower's statement at his press conference that foreign policy should be kept out of political campaigns "a proper position . . . for the president of the United States."

But he said "those of us who have the responsibility for carrying the weight of the campaign" should speak up in the administration's defense.

Nixon said that once a decision has been made committing American forces, he is opposed to partisan discussion that might lead a potential enemy to attack because of divided United States opinion.

He said U. S. action in the Quemoy-Matsu and Lebanon situations are in this category.

But on what he termed long-range policy, he said differences should be discussed.

The $100-a-plate Los Angeles dinner was billed as a "Salute to Dick." Pretty girls did a

Thomson said he wanted to "put the lie to a politically motivated and completely false charge that the state government has balanced its own budget at the expense of local governments."

During his administration, Thomson said, the state diverted some funds from the shared tax category, but returned all of this money in the form of educational aids to local communities.

"I emphasize this because it is a matter of public record," the governor said, "and because it clearly refutes the deliberately false statement that the state government balanced its budget by taking from local units of government."

Polaris Rocket Blows Apart at Cape Canaveral

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — (AP) — Navy missilemen today pieced together the shattered fragments of the second Polaris experimental rocket to explode in the last three weeks.

The 25-foot rocket was blown apart Wednesday after the second stage suddenly shot aloft a split second before launching and zig-zagged over the cape in a series of cartwheel turns.

Thus the latest version of the Polaris suffered the same fate as its predecessor which was destroyed by the range safety officer 50,000 feet over the cape on Sept. 24 when it jerked out of control.

The upper section of the missile, named AX-2, impacted in an isolated field on the cape, igniting a brush fire that roared through a one mile area for several hours.

The University Fares Well

One of the most tiresome of the old saws that are hauled out for service in every Wisconsin political campaign is the complaint that the state administrations at Madison in recent years have starved the University of Wisconsin and that therefore its quality and service are deteriorating.

Nobody associated with the university has given succor to such foolish challenges. Nobody will, we are confident. For the fact is that the university's budget allotments for many past years have been the envy of the other operating divisions of the state government with which it competes for attention and consideration by the legislature. Nor is there any evidence of timidity in the University administration today. It has just proposed, in its budget request, a handsome 30 per cent increase in appropriations over the generous allocations granted by the legislature a year ago.

But let an acknowledged authority on these matters speak. Dr. Conrad Elvehjem, the new university president, has been associated with the school for nearly four decades — as student, graduate student, instructor, professor, dean and now its chief executive officer. In an address accompanying his investiture as university president the other day, Dr. Elvehjem gratuitously detoured to pay a gracious tribute to the support that has always been granted cheerfully by the people of Wisconsin.

The ILO and the Communists

The International Labor Organization took two noteworthy steps at its 1958 conference in Geneva, Switzerland.

It decided that communist "employer" representatives could not sit on committees established to consider items on the agenda, and rejected the credentials of the delegation from Red Hungary.

Each year since 1954 the employer committee has refused to allocate seats to communist representatives. This was the first year, however, that the action was sustained by the conference as a whole.

Speaking against seating the communists. Cola G. Parker of Menasha, director of the Kimberly-Clark corporation and U. S. employer delegate, declared:

This is the fifth year we have been compelled to discuss the issue of whether government employees from communist countries, masquerading under the stolen title of "employers" should be imposed upon the free employers group.

I state categorically that there is neither a legal or moral basis for foisting these false employers on a free employers group.

ILO action on Hungary was based on challenges arguing that the Hungarian regime is maintained in power solely by the

Protesting Too Much

The executive secretary of the American Association of School Administrators, Finis Engleman, spoke to a conference of Wisconsin schoolmen in Madison recently. Unfortunately Engleman, apparently stung by unjust criticism of school policies, tended to lump all complaints together as unworthy and unnecessary.

"The nation's education system is under attack from a group of mercenaries and medicine men," he charged. "Russia and the communist world is going to beat us to our knees unless we change our values and support the great institutions of education in this country. Science won't defeat the communist world. Social sciences may. The humanities conceivably can."

Engleman then went on to urge that the average child not be neglected as the gifted is emphasized. But one must wonder from his talk why there haven't been even more complaints.

As far as we know, no reputable educator has urged the teaching of science to the detriment of the social sciences or

U. S. Should Not Try To be World's Fixer

From the Wall Street Journal

It might be useful for the administration and the congress to take note of some remarks made the other day by Dr. Henry M. Wriston of Brown university and George V. Allen, head of the U. S. information agency and the Voice of America.

While these gentlemen spoke at different places and on different subjects, what each of them had to say is closely related to one basic phase of our foreign policy that deserves the most critical examination.

Dr. Wriston, who four years ago headed a committee to advise Secy. Dulles on state department personnel problems, offered in New York some advice on other department matters. The U. S., he said, should beware of a policy of "idealistic imperialism." This he defined as "the notion that anything that's wrong anywhere in the world, it's up to us to fix it."

The United States, Dr. Wriston argued, has a moral commitment to let the other fellow alone to work out his own scheme of government. We would be ready to advise — if asked — to cooperate to work through the United Nations. Beyond that, we should not interfere whether we like this ruler or that kind of government.

Well, the United States, whether under Republicans or Democrats, has long suffered an itch to make over the world in its own likeness, and that brings us to the remarks of Mr. Allen, whose Voice of America is our most valuable tool in seeking to impress upon others the image of America. Mr. Allen said in Washington that he is perfectly willing to have the Voice of America monitored by the United Nations.

That creates an interesting problem, to be sure, for armed might of the Soviet Union, and thus the satellite delegation was not the representative of Hungarian labor.

"The people of Wisconsin" for the last 10 legislative sessions have been represented by Republican - controlled legislatures, which have followed the appropriation recommendations of Republican governors.

But there are more specific tests of the progress and accomplishment of a university, and the new president usefully cited them.

He quoted from National Research council studies showing that during the last 21 years the University of Wisconsin led all other universities in the land in the granting of doctorates in the natural sciences, was fifth in the nation in social science doctorates granted, and seventh in the arts and humanities. In total production of doctorates Wisconsin was second in the nation in the 21-year period, and lately has moved into first place. Deterioration? These Democratic candidates are slandering a school for which they are professing such solicitous campaign-time sympathy.

Nor is the university's achievement in undergraduate work less impressive. Of more than 1,300 degree-granting institutions in the nation, Wisconsin is fourth in the natural sciences for baccalaureate degrees, fifth in the social sciences, and eighth in the arts and humanities. Starvation? These ridiculous assertions dishonor the thoughtless, issue-hungry men who utter them.

armed might of the Soviet Union, and thus the satellite delegation was not the representative of Hungarian labor.

The action was praiseworthy, but long overdue. Hungary, along with other communist-dominated countries, has been an ILO member since the early 1950's.

Except for a brief period in 1956 when the country threw off Soviet chains and formed an independent government, Hungary has been totally under Russian control since the end of World War II. Hungarian workers were in the vanguard of the 1956 revolt, ruthlessly crushed by the Russians.

Was painstaking investigation needed to come to the conclusion that the Hungarian delegates did not represent their nation's workmen?

Nations with delegates to the organization still include Russia, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia. Are their workers any freer than Hungary's?

The ILO has taken two steps in the right direction. Maybe it is time for the organization to scrutinize the credentials of the other communist countries before according them further status as partners of free employers and unions.

humanities. Even the explosive Admiral Rickover is demanding tougher courses in foreign languages, history and geography along with math and physics. Dr. Nathan Pusey of Harvard warred early against an overemphasis on science as the Harvard Divinity school was reactivated. And over and over again educators and parents have urged that neglecting a prospective poet for a prospective plumber is not the tradition or ideal or aim of American education. It is the neglect of either one that has aroused parents and taxpayers. Not challenging the brilliant child is just as much a mistake as putting too much pressure on the one who cannot keep up.

The race for satellites and some fear of Russian success in the military field has led to unwarranted attacks on our school systems. But the schools belong most especially to the people who pay for them, and to the parents whose children attend. To class all those who have questioned or probed or criticized as "mercenaries and medicine men" makes Engleman quite unworthy of the position he holds.

there are two views on the reasons why we have a Voice of America. One is that the Voice is supposed to mirror America. The other is that it is supposed to be an out-and-out propaganda arm in the cold war. We know of no other reasons offered for its existence.

The question now is whether the Voice can serve either purpose if it is monitored by U. N. censorship, for the monitors are likely to see to it that the broadcasts are in a mirror of what the U. N. wants the world to find in America. That gives even less reason for the existence of the Voice.

Still, the Voice and the U. S. information agency, costly, controversial and dubious of value as their critics think them, are, like foreign aid, only an outgrowth of our propensity to right all the wrongs of the world.

For the fact is that if we had enough sense to abandon the notion that it is our duty to be the fixer for the world we would have much less use for foreign aid and none at all for government propaganda.

Experts Approve of Pilot Paper Mill: Proxmire

Has Answer To Protests Of Trade Paper

BY WILLIAM PROXMIRE
United States Senator
(Prepared for publication in Pulp & Paper Journal)

The Proxmire plan for a pilot plant newsprint paper mill has real merit — and the Eisenhower administration and leading industry experts have so testified.

The criticism of my proposal which was published in the August, 1958, issue of Pulp & Paper Journal is misleading. It omits essential facts, and distorts and half-tells others so as to result in a conclusion that is not valid. Instead of an objective report, it is a biased argument — an argument that gives every appearance of arising from someone with an axe to grind. It is an argument apparently reflecting the concern of present newsprint manufacturers over the possibility that a competing newsprint industry might arise in Wisconsin and other northern hardwood forest areas.

The newsprint manufacturers have every right to argue for their interests. But fair play is fair play, and the other side of the argument should be heard too. The other side, in this case represents the people of Wisconsin and other northern forest areas, who have a legitimate interest in getting a share of the increased future demand for newsprint paper. It represents also the interest of the press and the public in introducing genuine competition into the manufacture and sale of newsprint paper.

The Proposal

I have proposed that a pilot plant newsprint project be established so that the cold soda process for making newsprint out of hardwoods can be more fully developed. My primary hope has been to perfect this process so that a low-quality northern hardwoods, which are abundant

Wisconsin Sen. Proxmire's proposal that the federal government build a pilot plant to develop the use of Wisconsin hardwoods in the making of newsprint paper, and attacks on that proposal from the paper industry, have received considerable publicity in this area. In the accompanying article Sen. Proxmire replies to criticism of the project and explains why he still supports it. Tomorrow in this space will appear a reply to Sen. Proxmire by Albert W. Wilson, editor of "Pulp & Paper", trade journal of the paper industry.

dant in Wisconsin can be utilized profitably. This would develop a market for a Wisconsin farm and forest product that is mainly unsaleable at present, thereby creating new jobs, stimulating business, boosting the economy of the forested areas, and expanding the overall economy.

My efforts to promote this project are making progress. The project itself was first outlined by a bi-partisan presidential commission in its report on possible measures to promote industrial uses for surplus farm and forest products. This project would be authorized as a potential activity of the Agricultural Research and Industrial Administration provided for in a bill which passed the senate unanimously on July 29, 1958. This bill is almost identical to one of the main sections in my farm bill — the very first bill I introduced in the U. S. Senate. Another bill would have set up this project independently under the Small Business Administration; but since my appointment to the agricultural committee I have been making my main effort on behalf of the project through that committee.

The senate bill did not come up for a vote in the house. However, its massive support in the senate indicates good prospects for renewed approval in the next session, with concurrence by the house equally probable. Meanwhile, at my request, the U. S. Forest Service has as August 1958 — several weeks after the Pulp & Paper Journal article appeared in print. Mr. Benson's report states:

"One of the most promising uses for large volume of low-grade hardwoods is pulpwood. Hardwood pulpwood production in this country increased from 0.8 million cords in 1920 to about 5.8 million cords in 1957. The laboratory (Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wis.) has contributed much in the development of new pulping processes for hardwoods. The semi-chemical process developed more than 20 years ago is now coming into wide use, and a new cold soda process is being adapted been directed by the appropriations committees to undertake a preliminary feasibility survey of this proposal, which is already underway.

Arguments Against

The argument against my proposal that is offered by the article in your August issue boils down to these principal points:

1. The cold soda process is already fully developed, so that further research, pilot plant testing, and trial commercialization is not needed;

2. There is no need for increased newsprint production.

The Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, and Justice, a bi-partisan commission of experts appointed by President Eisenhower, and several leading figures in the commercial paper industry itself, are all on record to refute both points.

The true status of the development of this process was stated in a report from the secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, as recent-ed by industry even before it has been fully developed. Research in this promising field is continuing." (Annual Report by Secretary of Agriculture in Response to Section 201 (b), Public Law 540, 84th Congress, August 1958.)

Need Certified

The need and merits of such a pilot plant project have been certified by some of the best brains in the paper industry. Last year a presidential commission on increased use of agricultural products cited the need for such a pilot plant study as follows:

"Further use of hardwoods is being made possible by the cold-soda process of pulping which is in the advanced experimental stage. . . . This development requires a continuous pilot-plant study to extend the usefulness of the cold-soda process, and laboratory and engineering research aimed at increasing the efficiency and lowering capital requirements for this new approach."

Included among the members of the commission task force on forestry products were Mr. J. Alfred Hall, director of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory, Mr. Paul M. Dunn, of the St. Regis Paper Co., and other prominent scientists and industrialists.

In its report to Congress, the commission outlined the project for which I am seeking Congressional authorization. The following is quoted directly from the commission report:

Agricultural product: Timber.

Proposed use: Pulp Products, including newsprint.

The problem: To conduct pilot-plant studies of a new pulping process that holds promise for profitable use of hardwoods from farm woodlands in papermaking.

Objectives of research: Farm woodlands constitute an important potential source of revenue, especially from off-season work. A considerable part of the mixed hardwoods in the woodlands is not suitable for saw logs, but could be used as pulpwood for papermaking. The semi-chemical pulping process

cess developed by the USDA has made possible the use of various species of hardwoods that were formerly considered unsuitable for papermaking. Further use of the hardwoods is being made possible by the cold soda process of pulping, which is in the advanced experimental stage. Important problems remain, however, such as improvement of continuous pulping; reuse of pulping chemicals or development of byproducts to avoid loss and stream pollution and reduce capital outlays; and increasing the variety of types of paper products that can be manufactured from hardwoods, including newsprint. This development requires a continuous pilot plant study to extend the usefulness of the coldsoda process, and laboratory and engineering research aimed at increasing the efficiency and lowering Relation to current or past research: As noted, this work is a large scale development, expansion, and evaluation of the cold soda process developed by the USDA. The process is now in use in two large plants, but its broader applicability will require the investigation outlined.

Falls Short

Moreover, the Coosa Pines operation falls short of my objectives in other important respects. True, it is helpful in partially confirming the possibilities of the cold soda process. True, it has made progress in utilizing Southern scrub oak and gum for pulp.

But it is making no contribution toward developing a new newsprint paper manufacturing industry for Wisconsin.

It is not helping to develop a market for low-quality hardwood trees of Northern species including maple, beech, birch, aspen, elm and oaks.

Its product is not available to newspapers of the middle-west in case of a recurring newsprint shortage.

And most important of all, it is not a pilot plant; it is not developing new knowledge and experience that will be specifically and directly applicable to commercial operations in the northern Great Lakes forested area. The pilot plant project for which I have been working is needed to accomplish these aims.

What the Coosa Pines mill does indicate is that the southern hardwood areas are just this much ahead of the northern forest areas in utilization of the new process. This should act as a wholesome spur and a prod for the northern forest region to get in the race, before it becomes hopelessly outdistanced.

Wakeman's Charge

Much is made in the Pulp & Paper Journal article of assertions by Arthur Wakeman, who manages the Coosa Pines paper mill in Alabama, that the Coosa plant is already utilizing the cold soda process. He argues that development has proceeded so far that there are no worlds left to conquer, and that the Proxmire pilot plant proposal is obsolete and unnecessary.

Mr. Wakeman's bold claims that the answers are all known as far as development of the cold soda process are concerned is in striking variance with the governmental and industry authorities I have quoted here — all of whom emphasize that the project is only in an "advanced experimental stage" and affirm the need for "a continuous pilot plant study."

A factual report on what is really going on in Mr. Wakeman's Coosa plant completely punctures his implication that he has found out everything there is to know about the usefulness of the cold soda process.

True, pulp manufactured from hardwoods by the cold soda process is being used in newsprint at Coosa Pines — but only to the extent of about 20 per cent of the total possibilities of the cold soda process. True, it has made progress in utilizing Southern scrub oak and gum for pulp.

mix. The other 80 per cent of the pulp used is comprised of nearly equal parts of groundwood and sulphate pulp. Pilot plant work must be carried out to determine whether higher percentages of cold soda pulp may be used. This is the goal that needs to be reached to assure a newsprint manufacturing industry in Wisconsin. This goal, which is the one envisioned by the experts in the paper industry whom I have cited, is still far from fully realized.

Need for Paper

The need for additional supplies of newsprint paper is challenged also in the Pulp & Paper Journal article. But the paper industry's own data, compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce in a 1957 study, indicates an estimated demand by 1965 of 8.5 million tons annually. This is a 20 per cent increase above the 1958 demand. This estimated increase in the demand for newsprint of 1.5 million tons per year offers an opportunity to Wisconsin and other northern hardwood forested areas for a new market — if they can develop a new newsprint industry to serve it. The U. S. now imports most of its newsprint needs, and even if the new domestic source from Northern hardwoods is developed, it may be necessary to import increased amounts from foreign mills in the future.

The United States reported last May 9 on an investigation into monopoly and restriction of free competition in the newsprint industry. In his conclusion, he expressed himself as follows on the adequacy of newsprint supplies:

"... at the moment, there is more than adequate supply of newsprint, perhaps due as much to the decrease in demand as to the industry's own desire to expand production. Yet, if the price did not quickly rise during shortages, neither has it suddenly decreased during the present supply excess. And when this country's economy regains its normal momentum, demand for new supply may quickly outpace the industry's expansion plans, and the long spiral of upward price movement continue."

The attorney general expressed serious misgivings about the extent of monopolistic control in the newsprint industry, citing the elimination of competition through long-term contracts, the industry's "readiness to concert of action," and the companies' unwillingness to provide facts about their operation that would reflect on the existence or absence of monopoly. He remarked that "there can be no feeling of assurance that competition regulates this industry's course."

Prices High

The press — particularly smaller newspapers — has prompted congress to undertake five separate investigations since World War II of newsprint shortages and skyrocketing newsprint prices. Since 1945, the price of newsprint has soared 224 per cent. During the same period, the prices of other grades of paper have advanced about 190 per cent, and all wholesale commodities have advanced 170 per cent. Clearly this is a price history that indicates the need for expanded production capacity and effective price competition.

Critics of my fight for a cold soda pilot plant mill for northern hardwoods have questioned the availability of adequate supplies of pulpwood. U. S. Forest Service estimates clearly establish the fact beyond question that there is a tremendous supply of surplus hardwoods that are unsaleable at present. In Wisconsin alone, there is an annual growth of 296 million cubic feet of hardwoods. At present, only 130 million cubic feet — well under half — is harvested and sold. Providing a market for presently unsaleable low-quality hardwoods will be an immediate boon to farmers and other timber producers; the markets that do exist at present are sporadic and unpredictable. And clearing out low-quality stands will generally provide an opportunity to re-plant superior and more valuable species of trees to lay the foundation for a better forest industry for the future.

Cites Costs

There is, of course, no dependable final information as to the cost of producing newsprint by this method. That is one of the main reasons that a pilot plant test is needed. But in a paper presented at the Second Annual Pulp and Paper Conference at Kalamazoo, Michigan, R. A. Diehm, Professor of Paper Chemistry at Western State (Michigan) Teachers college, indicated that on the basis of experimental studies, cold soda pulp can be produced at a cost of about $60 a ton. Add to this about $40 per ton for finishing into newsprint and the total manufacturing cost comes to about $100 per ton. This cost, including direct operating, overhead, and raw material costs, is well within competitive range of current newsprint prices of over $130 per ton.

In the same paper, Prof. Diehm maintained that a cold soda mill of 100 tons per day capacity could be established at a cost of about $5 million. Furthermore, waste disposal and pollution problems will probably be nearly non-existent with the cold soda process.

These cost estimates, plus the testimony of leading authorities in the field as to the undeveloped potential-ities of the cold soda process, spell economic opportunity for dozens of communities in Wisconsin and similar northern forest regions. The financing and construction of locally-owned independent newsprint plants are clearly within reach of many communities in the forest areas — if the remaining experimental and trial commercialization work can be done.

I have never proposed a government-owned newsprint industry — nor even a subsidized industry, and neither have the president's commission nor the other supporters of the bill which passed the senate. Our goal is to develop and prove this new process to the point where independent business interests and local capital can proceed on their own, assuring the newspapers of the midwest of an adequate supply of newsprint at competitive prices, creating increased employment in the woods and mills, and providing a useful and profitable outlet for otherwise waste trees.

Lawrence Says:

Supreme Court Rules for Private School

Philadelphia College Allowed to Enroll Only White Students

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—The Supreme Court of the United States has just ruled, in effect, that Girard college in Philadelphia may remain segregated — that it may close its doors to all pupils seeking admission unless they are "poor, white male orphans."

Lawrence

This ruling should be an eye-opener to those persons who have been saying that a private corporation in Arkansas or Virginia may not operate schools on a segregated basis.

The question of how much "state support" a private institution can enjoy and still be segregated has never been defined by court rulings. For a private college gets an exemption not only from real estate taxes but also from income taxes. This is substantial "support" from the state.

The question of whether teachers who are on a state's payroll and who have time on their hands may volunteer their services, as a constitutional right in itself, has yet to be passed upon by the courts.

Whether any state buildings may be leased to a private corporation is also an unsettled problem because the final test is whether the facility itself is publicly owned or controlled. A mere transfer of property to a private institution without any responsibility by the state for the further use of such property by a private corporation is not much different from the circumstances that existed in the

Girard college case just decided. Originally, under the terms of the 1831 will of Stephen Girard, the city of Philadelphia was to act as trustee for the Girard college. The state passed laws empowering the city to do this. In 1957, however, both the state of Pennsylvania and the city of Philadelphia joined in declaring that the operation of the trusteeship was a form of "state action" and hence any discrimination as between whites and Negroes was a violation of the fourteenth amendment even though the will specified that only "poor, white male orphans" should be admitted. The highest court of Pennsylvania did not so regard it and the case went to the Supreme Court which decided on April 29, 1957, that as long as the city of Philadelphia was the trustee, no discrimination could be practiced. Refusal to admit Negroes was held to be unconstitutional because the state is an instrumentality of considered "segregation" an irrelevant issue. The management of Girard college then asked the orphans court in Philadelphia to name 13 private trustees instead of the city of Philadelphia. This was done, and the case was again taken to the courts. The Pennsylvania high court approved the transfer. Then the supreme court of the United States last June refused to review the case, which means it occurred in what the Pennsylvania court had decided. An application for a rehearing was made, but it was turned down on Monday of this week, thus disposing of the entire matter on a final basis. But while the highest court here did not issue any opinion and merely denied a review, the implications of its action are bound to be far-reaching. A careful reading of the opinion handed down by the Pennsylvania high court — which presumably is the "law of the land" now in such matters — makes it clear that this court considered "segregation" an irrelevant issue. World Series Reminds Sokolsky Of His Many Years in China, Japan

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

New York — I have lived many years but have never before seen a world series game.

My life has moved in different channels, wars, revolutions, politics, throat-cutting, historical gossip but never before have I sat through two world series baseball games. I was imported to this opportunity by none other than the amiable former postmaster general and salesman, Jim Farley, to whom baseball is a rite.

He took me two days running which was such a change of pace in our family that even the dog, Joe, could not understand why I dressed in country clothes and did not go to the country, where he, quite sensibly, would prefer to be.

There were 71,000 persons out to see a game. True, some came to be seen and others came to talk, which is an annoying exercise when out of place.

The game itself is extraordinarily attractive to one who is not used to it. Of course, in my childhood, there was too much baseball, but childhood good teams and played good scenes are like childhood ball.

One of the most interesting baseball games I ever saw Japanese, back in my days, that huge host from Manila. In the bleachers where we all sat were many older Chinese who had studied in American universities as far back as the 1880s, principally at Columbia and Yale. They were, back in 1918 and 1919, extremely pro-American; they spoke happily of their lives in the United States.

The older men, who liked baseball, had lived according to American ways in the United States. They had lived with them had joined American churches. When they were called back to China they achieved high position.

Undoubtedly the greatest of them all was Tong Shao-yi, alumnus of Columbia university, baseball fan, art collector and man of distinction both under the monarchy and in the republic. In their younger years, he and Herbert Hoover had been ourselves the blood and costs of a useless war.

Well, I sat in Jim Farley's box at the two world series games and these thoughts came to me as I saw fine American youth battle for victory. I saw the American flag fly, and heard a band play if they take my classes away from me. I haven't gained which is more than can be said for our theaters and concert halls where we act as if we are a nation. Lost Its Bearings

This was the time when the Mo-Gos were developing in the cities of Japan, the modern girl who wore western clothes and danced to jazz and knew what made the world go round. It was perhaps the beginning of the end for Japan because when a large part of a nation begins to throw off its traditions and to ignore its history, it loses its bearings. Many of the younger people were then zealously striving to be like Americans but we did nothing to cultivate friendship with Japan. In fact, since 1915, when Japan issued the 21 demands upon China, the United States grew increasingly antagonistic to ward Japan and the Japanese people were very conscious of the change in attitude. Had we tried to understand them and their problems, we might have saved ourselves the blood and costs of a useless war.

Well, I sat in Jim Farley's box at the two world series games and these thoughts came to me as I saw fine American youth battle for victory. Appearing rather dejected over the outcome of the meeting, Rodgers only comment was:

Teacher Says He'll Let Up On Homework

Pittsburgh — A Rankin High school history teacher has agreed to reduce the homework of 88 junior pupils if they return to school.

Thomas A. Rodgers made the promise Tuesday night at the second stormy school board meeting in two nights.

The pupils walked out Monday, protesting that Rodgers assigned as much as four hours of homework each night. They carried placards stating he was unfair.

At last night's meeting Supt. Maurice Silverstein announced that Rodgers would not teach history to the junior class for a 20-day "cooling-off" period.

Silverstein described Rodgers, who has been at the school 21 years, this way: "Mr. Rodgers might be a little strict but he does a good job. If anyone learns anything in this school, it's in Mr. Rodgers' class."

Rodgers had estimated that his assignments could be done by the average student in 40 minutes.

52,052 People Used State Park In '58 Season

Clyde Smith Gives Progress Report To Rotary Club

A total of 52,052 people used the three temporary picnic areas this year at High Cliff State Forest park, conservation department records show.

This figure triples the 17,000 total of the state park's first season in 1957.

Clyde Smith, Campbell sport, area supervisor of state parks and forests in the northern Kettle Moraine district, presented the comparative figures Tuesday noon in a progress report on the state park. He spoke to the Appleton Rotary club.

Ready Next Year Smith discussed development plans, which include building a permanent small boat landing with funds raised locally by conservation and outdoor groups in Outagamie, Calumet and Winnebago counties. Preliminary work already has begun.

A 2-mile nature trail below the escarpment of High Cliff has been completed, he said, and will be ready for use next spring. Nine acres on top of the cliff are being redeveloped for tent camping and picnicking he stated.

The boat landing will be at the west end of the present temporary areas along the lower cliff road. Plans include several large parking lots, a central shelter, picnic grounds, bathing beach and bath house and a baseball diamond.

All the park road work will be done by the highway department, financed by a special fund available to the conservation department, Smith explained. The highway commission will start preliminary planning soon.

Two entry roads will follow existing town roads. One off Highway 114 and another off Highway 55.

High Cliff State Forest park now has 339.61 acres, with 11,000 feet of lake frontage. The state has paid $272,913.99 for the property. Ultimate plans are that the park eventually will total 1,100 acres.

Knowland Tries To Link Foe With Gangster

Claims Democratic Committeeman Was Partner of Hoodlum

San Francisco — Sen. William F. Knowland, GOP candidate for governor, sought last night to link Democratic national committeeman Paul Ziffren of Los Angeles with a dead Chicago gangster and "the machine political boss" of the Illinois city.

The senate minority leader then told a Republican rally that Ziffren is "one of the chief supporters" of Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown's "campaign to capture the governorship of California and with it the control of the executive structure of our state government."

Political Architect

Knowland charged Ziffren is the "political architect behind my opponent for governor," Democrat Brown. He cited testimony from the Kefauver committee crime report indicating Ziffren had business dealings with Alex Louis Rosenberg, slain in Chicago Dec. 8, 1955.

In Los Angeles, Ziffren told the San Francisco Chronicle by telephone "this sounds to me like another Joe Kamp pamphlet of absurdities. He added:

"I've never believed in talking about dead men and I don't propose to engage the Knowland-Kamp campaign on such a ghoulish level."

Joseph Kamp is a right-wing pamphlet writer of Connecticut, some of whose leaflets were distributed by Knowland's wife, Helen. Mrs. Knowland said she did not know Kamp's background and her husband ordered use of the pamphlets discontinued.

Ziffren said he had not heard of any Kefauver committee records involving him.

Knowland's speech gave an involved account of what he said was the background on Ziffren's relations with Greenberg, including an alleged partnership with the gangster in a San Bernardino, Calif., property.

The senate minority leader asserted also that Ziffren was a partner in the law firm of Jake Arvey of Chicago—"the same Arvey who is the machine political boss of Chicago and a business affiliate of Alex Louis Rosenberg."

Knowland said his investigation "revealed the existence in California of a shadow-land powerful force infiltrating our political and economic life."

"I am speaking," he said, "of what should be termed the 'over-world'—that place where illicitly obtained money is placed into business and political life of our communities and where the power to control is achieved through this power to finance."

Police Press For Solution Of Bombing

Atlanta, Ga. —A special police staff went into seclusion as they pressed harder than ever today for a solution to the dynamite explosion which shattered a large portion of a Jewish temple.

Reliable sources said it was understood the FBI expected to solve the case today. N. R. Johnson, in charge of the FBI office here, declined to comment on the report.

Scores of FBI men have moved in to assist Atlanta and state police in the investigation after President Eisenhower asked for a complete report on the bombing from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The jarring blast before dawn Sunday was the first anti-Semitic violence in Atlanta but the fourth in the south this year. It caused $200,000 damage to the temple on fashionable Peachtree road.

Earlier explosions damaged synagogues or Jewish centers in Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., and Nashville, Tenn. A by telephone "this sounds to me like another Joe Kamp pamphlet of absurdities. He added:

The police staff directing the investigation here moved to an undisclosed site late Wednesday. Capt. J. L. Moseley said requests for information from news media had reached the point where it was interfering with the investigation. A large contingent of news, radio and television reporters has been sent to Atlanta to cover the investigation.

Elliott Roosevelt in First Appearance In Political Ranks

Meeker, Colo. —Elliott Roosevelt has joined the political ranks.

The son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt is the new Democratic chairman of Rio Blanco county.

It's Roosevelt's first official participation in politics, but it may not be his last.

There were rumors Roosevelt, who operates the Rolling R ranch in northwestern Colorado, may run for Colorado governor in 1962.

And Roosevelt himself said: "I am very much interested in Colorado politics."

Mrs. Vernia Atterbury, Mother of two children, flies high over the North Carolina state fairground suspended from a helicopter. Her trapeze act thrilled the largest opening day crowd in history Wednesday.

4 in Family Killed in Crash 2 Others Injured In 2-Car Accident In Waukesha County

By The Associated Press

Four members of a Milwaukee family were killed and two other persons were injured Wednesday night in a 2-car collision in eastern Waukesha county.

The deaths brought Wisconsin's highway traffic toll for the year to 633, compared with 703 on this day last year.

The victims were Mrs. Althia Wagner, 25, Milwaukee, and her children, Keith, 6, Kevin, 3, and Karlene, 3 months.

The dead woman's husband, Leonard, 30, was reported in fair condition at Waukesha Memorial hospital as was Lloyd Schank, 30, Germantown, driver of the other car. Coroner James Welch said the autos collided at the intersection of West Silver Spring drive and Highway Y in eastern Waukesha county.

River of Gasoline

Harrisonville, Mo. — Someone opened a gasoline storage tank spigot, apparently to help himself to a car tankful. He neglected to turn off the spigot. By the time it was discovered yesterday, 20,000 gallons of gasoline had flowed into ditches.

Masses Held In Rome for Pope Pius XII Workmen Begin Task Of Isolating Chapel For Voting Sessions

Vatican City —Funeral masses were celebrated today for Pope Pius XII in St. Peter's basilica and at a chapel near the pontiff's tomb in the grotto of the great church.

Bricklayers and carpenters erected barriers to isolate the Sistine chapel and adjoining Vatican buildings to be occupied by the college of cardinals during the conclave to elect his successor.

The workmen were arranging living quarters for the cardinals, who cannot leave the conclave area from the time they enter Oct. 25 until a new pope is elected.

Takes No Chances

Pope Pius XII was elected in a day. But the Vatican was taking no chances, and was preparing for a prolonged meeting. Vans were moving in beds; kitchens were being set up in Vatican courtyards.

Other workmen in St. Peter's were putting up stands for final weekend funeral services for Pius XII.

In Rome, Italian President Giovanni Gronchi and other government leaders attended a special funeral mass at Santa Maria Degli Angeli.

The cardinals now present in Rome held another meeting to discuss preliminary work for the conclave. Thirty-one attended.

Meanwhile, the first of foreign delegations to attend final funeral services Sunday began arriving in Rome.

Hollywood Model in Critical Condition After Pill Overdose

Hollywood —An overdose of sleeping pills, taken in the apartment of Comedian Roscoe Ates, 63, has left Hollywood model Reba Sanborn, 24, in critical condition.

Ates said Miss Sanborn was one of several guests at a dinner party Tuesday night in his apartment. He added:

"She complained of feeling sleepy and asked if she could lie down for a while. I thought possibly she had taken too much to drink and showed her to the guest room."

He said he left for work early Wednesday, returned about noon and found the girl unconscious. He called deputies. Emergency hospital physicians said she had taken an overdose of barbiturates.

Population of U. S. Set at 175 Million

Washington —The nation's population reached 175 million at 9:08 a.m. CST today, by the estimate of the commerce department's census clock.

The digits on the speedometer-like counter turned over with a clanking of cams and plungers before a small crowd attracted by a goodly throng of motion picture and still photographers.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Robert W. Burgess, director of the census bureau, were on hand for the event.

The clock does not pretend to be exact in its minute-by-minute estimate of population. Census officials believe, however, that it is not more than 24 hours off in either direction.

Results of the last national census in 1950 showed the clock was 70,000 shy of the actual population — 151 million — at that time.

Bombing Near Strength of Reds War Deterrent, Says Khrushchev

Boston Sect's Meeting Place Jehovah's Witnesses Adjourn Hour Before Blast Occurred

Boston —A home-made bomb exploded near a meeting place of the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect Wednesday night.

The meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Agnes Haroutunian, had adjourned about an hour before the explosion.

No one was injured, but the blast blew out about 30 windows in nearby tenements and shot pieces of the bomb into walls of several buildings.

Police refused to comment on the possibility the explosion was in any way connected with the recent bombings of Jewish houses of worship in Peoria, Ill., and Atlanta, Ga. A preliminary investigation, police said, indicated the bomb was made by filling a 6-inch length of pipe with powder and set off with a fuse. The blast ripped a hole six inches wide and four inches deep in the ground as pieces of metal scattered in all directions.

8 Israel Policemen Sentenced to Prison For Killing Arabs

Jerusalem, Israel —Eight Israel border policemen were sentenced today to prison terms of seven to 17 years for slaying 43 Arabs in Israel at the start of the Suez crisis two years ago.

The eight were found guilty by a military court earlier this week. Three others were acquitted. The eight main-

The Soviet leader said he could not vouch for the actions of any "madmen" but added, that the Soviet Union was certain there would be straitjackets ready for them.

Khrushchev spoke to workers and farmers yesterday in Krasnodar, 735 miles south of Moscow. His speech was published in Moscow today.

Mainly, the speech dealt with Soviet agriculture and the need to reduce production cost in order to cut price on grain, vegetables and meats. He touched briefly on international affairs after going into farm problems.

He warned Soviet grain farmers that they must cut prices in sales to the state or face what he called the serious problem of not selling their product at all.

tained their innocence, claiming they acted on higher orders.

The prosecution maintained, however, that even if they had been ordered, they should not have obeyed a manifestly illegal order.

The villagers were shot down as they returned from working the fields unaware that a curfew had been imposed.

The People Speak

Young Labor May Stray From GOP

Lift in Economy Could Bring Youthful Voters Back to Party

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

"One thing for sure, we're not having any more babies for a long time."

The young housewife was hanging her laundry in the backyard of her home in Dearborn, Mich. We were talking about the recession. Her husband, who worked for a company that made garage doors, had been out of work seven months before being rehired.

"We went so deep into debt, it's not funny," she recalled. "I had a baby and we had to borrow to pay the doctor. My husband expects to get laid off again. I'm planning to get a baby-sitter and go to work. With my husband's unemployment pay we ought to manage. We're sure not going to have any more babies. It's too hard making ends meet now."

Asked about the election, she replied, "I don't know anything about politics. We were for Eisenhower last time, but I guess we'll go along with what everyone around here is saying: 'Times are better when the Democrats are in.'"

The reactions of this 24-year-old housewife reveal a good deal about the Democratic surge in the country today. Over the past 10 years a whole new generation has come of voting age which had no personal memories of either Franklin Roosevelt or the great depression.

Swung to Ike

In 1952 and 1956 a majority of these younger voters swung for Eisenhower. Today, in every industrial neighborhood, the larger part of these 1-time Eisenhower voters are switching to the Democratic party.

If this shift were to prove lasting, it would virtually insure a Democratic presidential victory in 1960. But it is too soon to say that this new generation is lost to the Republicans for good.

For many of these voters who are under 30 or 35 the recession has come as virtually the first adult jolt they have experienced.

Other youths have acquired a new respect for the importance of pennies, with many keeping budgets for the first time.

"Before I lost my overtime we never thought of money," recalled one 28-year-old assembler. "My wife and I would go out in an evening and spend $30 without a thought. Now I buy cigarets at the supermarket instead of out of a machine. I used to join my buddies at the bar, where we'd drink beer. Now we buy beer in cans and visit one another's houses, looking at TV."

Politically, as well, this younger generation still is groping. Asked what they see as the big difference between the two parties, many shake their heads and say, "I really can't figure that out" or, "I haven't lived long enough to see both parties in office." Others say, "Eisenhower kept his word about ending the Korean war. I'll stick with the Republicans."

Typical Comment

But perhaps the most commonly voiced response is, "I don't know myself. But I keep hearing that the Republicans bring hard times while the Democrats get us into war."

That comment points to what is probably the most significant find of my survey of the political feelings of the younger voters. In 1952, many first voters, in marking their ballots for Eisenhower, voted differently from their parents. This led some observers to reason that the new emerging generation might become an independent political force, free of the New Deal era.

But today, possibly because the parties are offering them no other choice, the younger voters are turning back to the same symbols that divided their parents.

As one Ohio truck driver recalled, "When I told my father I was voting for Eisenhower he almost hit me. 'He had always drilled in me that the Democrats are the workers' party. I'm going back to the Democrats, though I still think labor has too much power.'"

In contrast, I have found younger voters in white-collar occupations tend to stick with the Republicans.

Partly this reflects the fact that the white-collar workers have been relatively untouched by the recession; also, they tend to be more sympathetic toward business than labor.

Other youths have acquired a new respect for the importance of pennies, with

Life in Economy

A lift in the economy would probably swing some of these younger voters back to the Republicans. Even among factory workers, I found less may soon be reverberating of a switch to the Democrats among those who have owned their homes for several years than among those who letters at the school will be bought new homes only a awarded to students for academic or two before the recession as well as athletic prowess.

To buy these homes — and often furniture and a car — many of these younger families plunged chin-deep into a yearly general average of debt. Being low in seniority they were among the first to

School Makes Plans to Give Academic Letters

Asbury Park, N.J. — The cry of "study, anyone?" may soon be reverberating through the halls of Asbury Park High school.

Starting this year, varsity years than among those who letters at the school will be bought new homes only a awarded to students for academic or two before the recession as well as athletic prowess.

The board of education voted yesterday to award a varsity "A" to all students with a yearly general average of 90 or higher.

The winners will be known as varsity scholars. Their time pay. Many of the new-blue letters will be the same or neighborhoods I visited size as those awarded athletes were dotted with "For Sale" letes and will have a white signs, each testifying to a border and a gold lamp of other family's inability to knowledge on the cross bar. meet payments.

United State's Policies Unpopular In Africa and Middle East Areas

BY SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There is the mirror of self-interest, national and personal. In Paris, Pierre Lengelle, highway inspector, complains: Americans call us 'colonialist.' This reminds me of an Algerian proverb: 'Beat your wife every morning. If you don't know the reason why, she does.'

"We know why the communists are against us but the Americans, they should never have been against us in Algeria. Now maybe they will realize this after what happened in the Middle East."

In Algiers, a young waiter whose brother was killed fighting with a mountain group of Algerian rebels discussed America. He withheld his name.

"Americans as people are friendly, pleasant and generous. But their government is a different thing. One day they support our cause (the rebellion) and the next day they support our enemies.

In the first three articles of this 4-part series, the effect of propaganda, personal experience with Americans, and native customs on the world's image of America was described. There are two other mirrors distorting the world's picture of the United States, and they involve the basic human emotions of selfishness and pride.

"We are like a man who is crowning. From time to time, the United States throws us a rope and we grab it. And then the United States cuts the rope."

Complain About Aid

In Caracas, where left-wing students attacked the vice president of the United States with stones and spit, Venezuelans complain about U. S. restrictions on oil imports from their country. They complain, also, that the United States sends billions in aid to Europe and Asia but little to its neighbors in Latin America.

In Peru, where Nixon also was attacked, they complain about U. S. tariffs affecting Peruvian metals, about the U. S. surplus cotton taking the market away from Peruvian cotton in South America. In Japan, they complain about American tariffs on flatware, umbrella frames and other Japanese goods.

In Cairo, Mahmoud Mohamed Ahmed earns $30 a month as a cook. He, his wife and four children live in a tiny, 2-room house sparsely furnished. He is a man with little hate. He thinks kindly of Americans as people. He thinks ill of American policy and, of course, the landing in Lebanon.

Called Imperialistic

"Everyone here says American policy is imperialistic. I agree. If America wants to fight communism, she should not try to impose her will on small nations in that fight. We, too, are against communism because our Moslem religion is against it."

In India, from the intellectuals in the cities to the unsophisticated farmers in the villages, most Indians ask only two questions about U. S. foreign policy: Does America side with Pakistan or India in the Kashmir dispute, with Portugal or India on the question of Goa?

Ram Piyari is a cowherd whose water buffalo and cattle graze on the wild lawns of the marble Moghul Palace in New Delhi. He has a very original view of U. S. foreign policy.

"America wants more and more land. Even to park all their cars, they want one big country. And to bury their dead—6 feet by 3 feet—they want new space in other countries."

Pakistan Friendly

From that premise Ram proceeds to this conclusion: America one day plans to conquer India through Pakistan.

In Pakistan, they like us. They find us frank and straightforward and not nearly as class conscious or imperialistic as the British.

In Jakarta, Indonesia a man named Achmad Soeroto drives a bejaka, a 3-wheeled bicycle rickshaw. He is 22, a leathery, muscular figure in ragged shorts, tattered straw hat, bare feet. He earns about 30 cents a day and pays a third of it for rent of the bike. If his fate is the same as that of most bejaka boys, infection, disease or fatigue will probably kill him by the time he is 30. He votes communist.

Achmad can't read and admits he doesn't know much about America except what he has been told and what he has seen in the movies. In the movies, he sees "every Amer-

'Want World Rule'

And what has he been told? "At home, Americans beat Negroes . . . I am dark, too. too."

The American government is no good. They want to rule the world and Indonesia, too."

There is the mirror of pride, national and personal.

"Americans living here stay convention he met an American doctor who praised his even bother to learn our language," said a man in French.

In Lima, Peru, a bank clerk says:

"Americans don't really ask the Mexican doctor know or bother to find out 'Could he not have just said much about the world outside that as a colleague he considered the operation well done?' For example, the many Peruvians know that This is formed the image at the Mississippi is the largest of America, drawn from many river in the states How many murders. Fact and fiction. Madison. Americans know that the Am-

Have Many Friends

Friends? We have many. In England, in France, in Italy, in Austria, Australia, the Philippines, Pakistan, Formosa. In any contest, most of them appear ready to take their image of America over their image of Russia.

But even among our friends, there seem to be more who need us than like us, more who see us for our misdeeds than good deeds, more who accept our aid and quietly resent needing and getting it.

Among the Frenchmen interviewed at random for this survey, all of them criticized America. None happened to recall that it was just 40 years ago that Pershing returned Lafayette's compliment and just 14 years ago that the American 1st army liberated Paris.

And in this image of America, an American might wonder, along with the rich man talking to a needy nephew: "Why are you mad at me? I haven't done anything for you lately?"

Police Station Bond Issue Vote Set for Nov. 4

Council Awards Contracts for $310,000 Water Plant Addition

Neenah — For the third time this year the new police station will be up before the voters.

This time it will be for approval at the Nov. 4 election of a $200,000 bond issue to finance the police station construction.

The council Wednesday night voted to put the referendum before the voters at the regular election.

Last April electors rejected by 221 votes a $270,000 bond issue for the police station. In September they approved by a 30-vote margin the Walnut-Doty site for the station over other undesignated locations.

Construction Cost Cut
Construction plans were changed since the April election to reduce the cost to about $200,000. If voters approve this amount, the council can order the architect to proceed with final building plans for the taking of bids next spring.

Details of a $460,000 bond issue to finance the water works plant addition and the new westside fire station and fire truck were approved. Sealed bids for the sale of these bonds will be opened at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 5. The fire truck already has been delivered and the new station will be complete shortly.

The bonds will run for 20 years with $15,000 being paid off each year from 1959 to 1961, $20,000 a year in 1962 and 1963 and then $25,000 a year from 1964 to 1968.

The bond issue will provide $65,000 for the new station, $30,000 for the new fire engine and equipment and $365,000 for the water plant addition.

Award Contracts
The aldermen awarded contracts for the addition to the low bidders. These were $204,949 by Hedrich Construction company of Chilton for general construction, $37,600 for filter equipment and $62,300 for heating, ventilating, piping and plumbing by C. A. Hooper company of Madison and $4,916 by Langstadt's, Inc., of Neenah for electrical work.

Final payment of $8,428 to contractors on the clearwell construction was ordered. The clearwell is now in operation. Total cost of the clearwell is $245,991, the council was told.

Council Can't Violate Law, Attorney Says

Mayor Can Instruct Police on Parking Of Bus by Meters

Neenah — The council cannot violate its own ordinance, City Atty. Charles Schaller informed aldermen Wednesday night regarding a motion to give Greyhound Bus lines temporary permission to use two metered stalls in front of its new ticket agency at 310 N. Commercial street.

But, he added, the mayor can tell the police department to allow them to use that space.

The council had been considering temporary permission to use the space while its public protection committee looked into the bus lines' request and had an amendment prepared to the parking meter ordinance removing those two meters from the system.

Passenger Hardship
The bus line said the present stopping place for southbound buses is 150 feet south of the ticket agency and would be a hardship for passengers carrying grips and for drivers unloading packages for Twin City industries.

The bus company suggested moving the city bus stop from the southwest corner to the northwest corner. The aldermen thought the suggestion plausible.

Mayor Chester D. Bell, in agreeing to call the police department to let the buses use the two stalls, said "it's a matter of strict theory vs. practical enforcement."

Chest Donations
Hit 73 Per Cent
Neenah — Donations of $1,000 Wednesday raised Community Chest receipts to $88,875, or 73 per cent of the $121,800 goal. The drive extends through the month of October with pledges being made at places of employment or any of the four Twin City banks.

Seven chapter members attended the first state conference of the American Red Cross chapter held at Madison Tuesday and Wednesday. Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes was a member of the panel on the Junior Red Cross and Tolversen a panel member for the blood program.

Morse Beats Drum for Democratic Candidates

Predicts Increase In Majority Party In House, Senate

Oshkosh — Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon Wednesday night castigated reactionary Republicans and Dixiecrats to "rise above party." The for 13 hours in a talk before one of the largest Winnebago county Democratic groups to gather in the last 20 years. Speaking to 175 at a turkey dinner at the VFW hall, Morse said he was there to "beat the bass drum for Democratic candidates" just as he kept it in model T parades for LaFollette. He said he did not regret resigning from the Republican party in 1952.

"I have never been a hon-eymooner with the President," Morse declared as he accused the Republican administration of being "the greatest administration of oversight and the worst anti-federal Administration in the history of the nation."

"The American people are beginning to recognize the administration has clay feet," he contended.

Predicts Increase
The Oregon senator predicted an increase of from eight to 10 Democratic senators and about 30 more Democrats in the house and he urged the election of Sen. Proxmire, whom he said made the greatest impression on him as a liberal in his 14 years in the senate and who he felt was a "great statesman."

He also called for the election of James Megellas to congress and for a straight line of Democratic state candidates. "Wisconsin has a job to do to demonstrate to the per and printing problems for corporation staff and mill personnel and is a regular lecturer at sales printing schools conducted at the corporation's sales promotion center.

The new senior research associate is a member of the American Physical society, Technical Association of Graphic Arts, TAPPI and the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen.

He serves as a member of the TAPPI graphic arts sub-committee on bonding and strength and the Lithographic and the Lithographic re-search committee.

Another resolution calling for a bond issue to construct a swimming pool was tabled because it was felt that two issues in a Nov. 4 referendum would cause confusion. The councilmen felt there was time after the school bond issue was settled to take up the swimming pool.

A contract for construction of a municipal parking ramp was let jointly to the architectural firm of Sanstedt, Knoop and Yarbrough of Oshkosh and to Charles Nagel and Associates of Milwaukee.

A service unit operates in Neenah - Menasha, one of many in the country situated where there is no corps center. The local committee includes a chairman, treasurer and several other members and is a liaison between the public and the Community Chest.

The local committee controls the fund and rules on all welfare applications for Salvation Army aid and serves those in trouble, sickness or disease with a minimum of delay.

Clothing has been furnished needy families along with meals and lodging for individuals by the local service unit.

Care for unmarried mothers is one of the Salvation Army's oldest services. The agency offers pre-natal and post-natal care and aids the mother in planning for her future and for the child's welfare.

Little Public Interest but Close Senate Race Probable

BY JOHN KOLESAR
Trenton, N. J., (U)—New Jersey's U. S. senate candidates look as though they were picked by a Hollywood casting director, but the campaign has been no hit at the box office. The whole thing has party heads on both sides baffled. It figures to be a very close election, but no crowds, no heat and not much voter interest have shown so far.

Running for the Republicans is U. S. Rep. Robert W. Kean, 65-year-old veteran congressman and millionaire investment banker with a U. S. Senate tradition in his family. His gray hair, almost white mustache and dignified carriage conform to one of the popular ideas of what a senator looks like.

Opposing Kean is Harrison A. Williams, Jr., 38-year-old lawyer and former congressman. Dark-haired and boyish-looking, Williams personifies the young, liberal Democratic candidate.

They are battling for the seat being vacated by Sen. H. Alexander Smith, 78-year-old Republican who is retiring.

Kean's 20-year record in congress has been the main

Parking Meter Time Changed In Canal Lot

Limit on North Nine Stalls Cut From 4 to 1 Hour

Neenah — Parking meter ordinance changes were approved at Wednesday night's council meeting by the public protection committee.

Aldermen approved changing the 4-hour parking limit for nine stalls in the parking lot on the south side of Canal street to a 1-hour limit. These stalls are on the north side of the lot along the street. Other stalls in the lot will not be changed.

Ald. Leonard Hedberg, committee chairman, said this is the first phase of a program which eventually will make part of Canal street a 1-way street and will remove parking on the west side of N. Commercial street between W. Wisconsin avenue and Canal street.

Defer Stoplights
The council agreed to defer until next year installation of traffic lights at S. Commercial street and Columbia avenue. Stop signs were ordered installed at the northwest corner of Matthews and W. Cecil streets and where Cecil street enters Highway 41. Stop signs were approved for Commercial street at the Wisconsin avenue intersection for use when the traffic lights are not in operation.

Half-hour parking only will be allowed for 51 feet on the south side of Winneconne avenue west of Harrison street instead of the present 2-hour parking in front of the grocery store at that corner.

Settlement
A $500 settlement was voted to Donald Vanderwalker who was injured several years ago while working at the Marathon Cecil street plant. He was on a ladder when a city employe opened a door, knocking Vanderwalker off the ladder. The settlement was suggested by the city's insurance carrier.

A special malt license was approved for Handicapped Products company for a 3-day program at the S. A. Cook armory starting today.

ing. He is at his best in a debate when fired up by an antagonistic question about his record.

Kean is getting plenty of help from his family. His wife, Elizabeth, makes the tours with him and likes politics. Their six children are grown up and give her a chance to get out. The three sons are leading a hand.

Kean has two traditions at stake in the campaign. In his family, both his father and uncle were U. S. senators. His party has won every U. S. senate election in New Jersey for the last 23 years.

Elected in 1953
Williams is no novice at seeking to end Republican victory streaks. He won election to congress in 1953 in a district that had not elected a Democrat in the 22 years since its creation.

He was defeated for reelection in 1956 by 4,000 votes when Eisenhower piled up an 80,000 vote plurality in the district.

Both sides make standard victory predictions, but neither is overly confident. The 1954 senate election in New Jersey was decided by 3,000 out of 1,700,000 votes and polls so far show Kean and Williams exactly even.

So both men are taking their automobile caravans to longer lists of stops, trying to find even those smallest groups of voters who may decide a close election.

Overseas Servicemen Tell What They Want for Yule

Menasha — If they cannot be home for Christmas, servicemen overseas would like home to come to them, a survey compiled by the Menasha Red Cross chapter reveals.

Homemade food, family

photos and recordings, home town papers, and mail are desired.

The majority of servicemen and women said they could buy most traditional gift items at post exchanges or ship stores. Many state the best Christmas gift would be a promise from relatives at home to write regularly.

Homemade food ranked high as a preferred gift as it tastes much better than that provided by mess halls or local bakeries.

The servicemen asked families and friends to send letters and Christmas cards air mail. It takes service mail up to 40 days to reach Turkey, Korea and Formosa.

Homecoming Events Begin At Menasha High

Alvin Hoelzel received a permit for a $10,500 home. 30 by 40 feet in size, at 111 Richard avenue.

Bus Driver Pleads Nolo Contendere

Oshkosh — Harold Klutz, 37, of 17 1/2 Fifth street, Neenah, pleaded nolo contendere to a charge of failure to yield the right of way and forfeited $20 and costs in municipal court Wednesday afternoon.

Klutz was the driver of a school bus involved in a collision with a car on a town road a mile north of Highway 150 and 45 on Oct. 8. Eighteen high school students were not injured but three Three Lakes persons riding in the car were taken to Theda Clark hospital.

Around Home...

Mrs. Richard Nelson, 805 Cecil street, Neenah, came to the aid of a Neenah High student whom she kept after school when she taught as a substitute.

The boy then missed a ride home on the school bus. She gave the boy a ride to his home several miles in the country, had a chat with the parents and returned home with a gift of a dozen eggs.

Agent Gives Recipe for Cheese Pie

Neenah — Variations of cheese casseroles can be made with cabbage, cauliflower or broccoli as well as rice, macaroni and spaghetti.

Swiss cheese pie, a recipe suggested by Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, contains large quantities of protein and calcium. Prepare one nine-inch, unbaked pie shell and chill. Fry six slices of bacon until crisp. Crumble bacon evenly in the bottom.

To test the pie, insert a table knife in the center. If it comes out clean, the pie is done. Allow the pie to stand 5 to 10 minutes before cutting it to serve.

Serve a crisp salad, dark bread or rolls and a green vegetable to complete the meal.

Neenah — Mrs. Norman Osier, a member of the society's executive board; Miss Dorothy Schmidt, fourth grade teacher at Washington school; Miss Elizabeth Tiff, elementary art teacher; and Miss Lucy Bartelt, third grade teacher at Roosevelt school, all newcomers to the community.

Neenah — Dorothy Allen clouted a 605 national honor count in the Neenah Women's City league and Al Spang battered a 652 effort in the Commercial circuit to highlight action in Wednesday night bowling leagues at Muench's Recreation alleys.

Dorothy Allen

Mrs. Allen, who posted four national totals last season, including a peak 654, opened with a whopping 242 game. She posted a 192 in the second effort and dropped to 171 in the third.

Wayne Rehmer had a good-sized 637 runnerup count, while Ursula Krambs bowled 190-534.

Other honor totals included Audrey Handler 516, Verna Muench 213-513, and Natalie Feibach 502.

Curley's Bar is in first place with an 11-31 record. Muench's is a game off the pace with an 11-4 mark.

Zephyrs Battle St. Norbert In Third FVCC Grid Outing

Squires Post 1-1-1 Record; Split Two Non-League Tests

Menasha — St. Mary will continue its quest of Fox Valley Catholic conference laurels when it meets St. Norbert High school at De Pere's Minahan stadium Friday night.

The Zephyrs move into their third FVCC clash with the Norbertines defeated Wisconsin Rapids Assumption, 19-13 and lost to Sturgeon Bay, 20-13, on a long pass the last 16 seconds.

Wright has only five lettermen back from last year's squad but has picked up a couple of transfers. The returnees are headed by Claire McQuestion, regular fullback for the third year, and Don Dahlke, in his second year as regular halfback.

Other veterans are Tom Tessa, center, tackle Joe Friha and quarterback Dave Rhodes. The latter saw considerable action as a freshman last season.

Two newcomers include John Whitney, a halfback from Neenah, and Joe Schmitt, junior halfback from Preble. Schmitt is remembered here for leading the Green Bay St. Mary Grade school basketball team to the Diocesan tournament crown several years ago.

Pass defense has been one of the Squires' weakest points all season. Marinette compiled 163 yards through the air last Sunday and scored both of its touchdowns on long throws. Sturgeon Bay topped them on a pass. St. John scored one of its touchdowns via passing and set up another and Assumption made both of its scores through the air.

Throw 31 Passes — St. Mary has taken to the air only 31 times in its five games and has completed 12. Coach Vince Ste. Marie expects all of his athletes to be ready for their second game on the Minahan field turf.

They trimmed East De Pere, 26-13, there on Sept. 11. The Zephyrs jolted their traditional foe to the tune of 32-7 last season in one of their doesn't close the schedule each year.

The Neenah High school pep band entertained before the meeting. The next club session will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the bathhouse. Officers hope to have films of the Wisconsin-Purdue or Wisconsin-Iowa game.

Call Off Shamrock, Appleton SSAC Test

Menasha — The grade school football game between St. Patrick and the Appleton South Side Athletic club team was postponed Wednesday because of a conflict in the use of the Sixth street park field. The game may be played sometime next week. The Shamrocks make their next outing Sunday afternoon at Butte des Morts field against Kimberly Holy Name.

Reedsville will cinch at least a tie for the circuit title if the Panthers win and Shiocton upsets Freedom, Reedsville, Freedom, Winneconne and Hortonville shared the 1957 title.

Menasha's offensive line includes Harold Kachur and Pete LaValle or Dave Ristau, ends; Bob McAloon and Weber, tackles; Dick Winz and Dale Ramich, 139 pounds, at end.

Menasha's defensive line averages about 190 to 195 pounds and Neenah's average is about 180 to 185. Menasha's poundage is given a boost by the presence of 210-pound Charlie Weber while Neenah's is down with Dale Ramich, 139 pounds, at end.

Twin City Elevens Vie For Loop Lead

Meet for 43rd Time in Long Rivalry; Bluejays Seek 1st Win Over Rockets Since '53

Menasha — What on paper at least, appears to be the most evenly matched affair in recent Neenah-Menasha games is scheduled for 7:30 Friday night at Butte des Morts field. The Bluejay homecoming game will be the forty-third meeting in the 62-year old series.

Not only will the winner take away the usual prestige which goes with a triumph in the annual fall classic, but it will sit alone atop the Mid-Eastern conference for at least a week. The pace-setting Jays go in with a 4-0 mark. Neenah has three wins and a tie.

Four Straight Wins — Menasha attempts to halt the recent Rocket monopoly in the series which now measures four straight wins. The Jays last triumphed in 1953 when they spoiled Neenah's bid for an unbeaten season.

The Red and White recorded a one-sided 49-6 trimming last year, the widest margin in the long-time series.

Factors on the Bluejays' side include an edge in size, speed in the backfield, the fact that many of the starters were involved in last year's shellacking and the hope to avenge the loss and the boost which they got from last week's blanking of previously-unbeaten Kaukauna.

Neenah Depth — Neenah's strong points include depth, especially in the backfield, the fact that most of their injured boys will be back and they didn't have to put up much of an effort to win their last two games.

Against New London and Two Rivers while the Jays have had a couple of "toughies" in Kaukauna and Clintonville.

The Jays have been fortunate in that they've had very few serious hurts while the Rockets have been able to stay unbeaten although their first string fullback (Dick Wilson) and a starting end, defensive halfback (Bill Braunt) are out for the year and halfbacks Pete Miller, Jim Laffin, Gary Ellis and Jon Hensen all missed one or more games.

The league probably doesn't have any finer quarterbacks than the pair that will be in action against each other Friday night. Dave Robinson is in his second season as a Menasha regular and Bill Kuehl started several Neenah games last year when Marv Carlson was hurt. Both can throw but the Jays have used their passing attack sparingly.

Defensive Lines — Menasha's defensive line averages about 190 to 195 pounds and Neenah's average is about 180 to 185. Menasha's poundage is given a boost by the presence of 210-pound Charlie Weber while Neenah's is down with Dale Ramich, 139 pounds, at end.

Navy's Amazing New Arctic Fabric

Keeps You Warm Without Bulk

Now You Can Hunt, Fish, Ski In Perfect Comfort in Allen-A Insulaire

Thermal Underwear

The Navy needed a wonder fabric — warm enough for far-below-zero weather, yet not heavy or bulky. Unusually absorbent so men could wear it in doors or in mild weather without sweating. And 100% laundry-proof.

Here's the fabric they developed — in well-made shirts and drawers especially designed for active men. Now you can shed extra layers of bulky, heavy outdoor clothing — dress lighter, have more freedom.

This new fabric is made of down-soft cotton (doesn't itch), knitted in unique 2-dimension pattern. Traps body-heat in thousands of tiny "pockets" for perfect insulation. Rigorously tested for warmth in arctic conditions. Can be machine-washed, tumble-dried. Won't shrink out of size or stretch out of shape.

Versatile Fruit

Stuff Ham Steaks With Diced Apple Or Vice Versa for 2 Delicious Dishes

Nothing eatable excels the apple in versatility. It is delicious raw, in sauce and salads, in cobbler, dumplings and fritters; and apple pie is short for "America's favorite dessert."

There's never a dull meal when this cheery, juicy fruit contributes its lively looks and taste—especially after it's had a session in the oven. Autumn makes bountifully abundant the bake-able varieties that particularly appeal to America's avid appetite for apples—among them Cortland, Newton Pippin, and Stayman.

Apples combine with ham in such marvelous main dishes as ham steaks stuffed with diced apples or—since turn-about is clever fare play—apples stuffed with diced ham. If you're looking for desserts that satisfy the sweet tooth without upping the calorie count, try cinnamon-spiced baked apples in casserole, or baked apple pudding with fresh lemon sauce—and look no further because the family will clamor for repeats on these.

Fresh Ham Steaks With Apple Stuffing
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped celery
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups toasted bread cubes (croutons)
1 teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 tablespoons water
1 cup finely diced apples
2 ham steaks, 1-inch thick
2 tablespoons fresh orange juice
1 tablespoon melted butter
Saute onion and celery in butter. Add toasted bread cubes, salt, black pepper and poultry seasoning. Mix well. Blend in water and apples.
Slash the fat around the ham steaks to prevent curling and place one in a greased baking pan. Top with apple stuffing, over which place the remaining ham steak. Stud with a few whole cloves, if desired.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven one hour and 20 minutes or until done. Baste with fresh orange juice mixed with melted butter two to three times.
Garnish with baked apple rings, if desired.
6 servings.

This makes a good party dish. To serve eight to 12, double this recipe and arrange the stuffed ham steaks on a large platter, side by side.

Stuffed Baked Apples
6 large baking apples
1 cup finely diced cooked ham or luncheon meat
2 tablespoons seedless raisins
1 tablespoon butter
1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup sweet apple cider
Wash and core apples. Scoop out the insides and chop fine. Mix with the next four ingredients. Pack stuffing firmly in cavities. Place in a baking pan. Heat cider and pour over tops. Cover.
Bake in a 375-degree preheated oven 45 minutes to one hour or until tender.
Baste with apple cider at 15 minute intervals. Yield: Six servings.

Dessert Casserole
4 large (2 lbs.) peeled sliced tart apples
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 tablespoons tapioca
1 teaspoon salt
2 to 3 tablespoons butter
Wash, peel and slice apples. Mix together the next four ingredients. Place in a buttered 14-quart casserole in alternate layers. Dot top with butter.
Cover and bake in a preheated moderate, 375-degree oven 40 minutes or until apples are tender. Yield: Six servings.

Clayton Man Saves Time, Costs in Farm Machinery Repairs

Neenah — Carl Jacobsen, town of Clayton farmer, has found a way to cut costs and time in getting repairs for farm machinery. He is purchasing a building, which he converted and moved to his farm, into a machine shop.

The building is divided into two sections, each with a large doorway to move the machinery in and out. There are several electric outlets for an electric welder so it can be moved for different jobs.

This way, he no longer has to tear down a machine in order to take a piece to town to be repaired. It can be repaired at the farm.

Here's an Exciting Taste adventure—ham steaks stuffed with a mixture of diced apples, chopped celery and chopped onion. The salty ham tang blends delightfully with the tart sweetness of the fresh apples.

Good Corn Storage Cuts Spoilage Loss

Oshkosh — Good storage for ear corn can cut the loss from spoilage, insects and rodents, Donald J. Tripp, assistant county agent, advised today.

For natural drying of corn, he suggested widths of about five to six feet. A crib of more than six feet is recommended if mechanical drying is to be used. To reduce ear corn from 20 to 13 per cent moisture in the kernels means removal of nearly a gallon of water from each bushel of corn.

In locating a new crib in which corn will be dried naturally, the rectangular type crib should be located with the long way running north and south. Both sides are then exposed to sunshine and prevailing winds will circulate through the crib.

State Tax Structure Irks Industrial Firms

Answers to Survey Complain About Unrealistic Attitude Toward Business

Milwaukee — Restrictions on industrial expansion in Wisconsin are resulting from state and local government rules and requirements and an unrealistic attitude toward the needs for business development, a questionnaire drawing 365 returns from 1,125 industrial firms in the state indicates, according to the special taxpayers committee on the state budget.

The firms which employ 50 or more, said they felt generally the communities in which they were located wanted industry but that state and local government failed to recognize or did nothing about the impact of the tax structure and governmental expenditures on business.

A total of 47.2 per cent of those answering the questions said that to conform to state and local requirements, including the tax structure, they have had to adopt procedures which contributed to the cost of doing business and to which their competitors in other states were not subject.

Second in Series
Prepared with the assistance of the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin, which services the committee, the report is the second in a series of the relationship of government to economic growth. An earlier report covering 186 state-operating firms which expanded since 1946 showed that 47,556 new jobs were created, but that a third more, or 27,464 were developed outside the state than in it.

The 56 firms expanding outside Wisconsin listed state corporation income taxes as the most disadvantageous factor in the state with the next four being local property taxes, proximity to market, labor costs and the state individual income tax.

"While it is recognized that governmental attitudes and the impact of governmental regulations are intangible elements that do not readily lend themselves to statistical analysis, nevertheless they are major determining factors in economic growth," the committee said in explaining the background to its second preliminary report.

Of the firms answering the questionnaire, 86.6 per cent said they considered the community in which they operated anxious to have industry locate within its borders. But at Fort Knox, Ky., where 62.2 per cent said they did Master Sgt. Baker is stationed not feel that state and local ed.

government was concerned about the effect of governmental costs on industry and $2.6 did not consider the state government friendly to business and indicated through their comments the effect of the tax structure was a major reason for their opinion, the committee's report showed.

The personal property tax was listed as the state or local regulation or requirement most restrictive on Wisconsin business, while income taxes, unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation rates, safety regulations and miscellaneous other factors also were mentioned.

A total of 86 firms said they had to pay higher salaries in recruiting executive and professional personnel from out of state to compensate for Wisconsin's income taxes. States most often listed as the location of largest competitors which were in a better position on state and local requirements were Illinois, Ohio and Indiana, the committee said, adding that these same three states ranked high among the states in the number of new jobs created since 1946 outside the state by firms operating in Wisconsin with Illinois getting 5,680 of the additional jobs; Indiana 4,715 and Ohio 1,080.

One firm commented that "the community is apparently not concerned about the effect of the increasing cost of government on industry under the present tax structure," while another said that "nothing is done about lowering taxes to attract industry."

Returns From Visit

Marion — Mrs. Ruth Wulk has returned from visiting her anxious to have industry daughter, Mrs. P. J. Baker, locate within its borders. But at Fort Knox, Ky., where 62.2 per cent said they did Master Sgt. Baker is stationed not feel that state and local ed.

'Share the Wealth' Motto for Four-Way Communal Living

DEAR ANN: So many letters in your column are from people who are having relative trouble of every possible type. I thought you might be interested in a rather unusual experiment that is working.

Several months ago the members of Landers my husband's family got together and decided our joint rent, utility and fuel bills were more than we could handle. So all of us (four families) rented a big, old-fashioned, five-bedroom house. By splitting everything, the cost is about $50 a month per family, total.

We have a house in a good neighborhood and share the living room, kitchen, dining room and den. Each family has its own bedrooms. The families consist of my mother-in-law and her 12-year-old daughter, a brother-in-law, his wife and two-month old baby, my sister-in-law and husband and their two daughters, and my husband and I who are expecting our first baby next month.

What makes this all the more remarkable is my husband and I are Jewish, his sister and her husband are Catholic and his brother and wife are Protestant. We all get along beautifully.

My mother-in-law is employed downtown and we three gals divide the household chores and yard work. We each do our own cooking and dishes. While I wouldn't recommend this set-up for most people, it has worked wonderfully for us.—MRS. H. P. R.

DEAR ANN: I'll be 21 years old in December, have had three years of college and now hold a responsible position. I'm respectable, have good sense and have never caused my parents one minute of worry.

Last night my father calmly and for no reason announced he's setting up a new "rule." If I'm not in the house by midnight he will bolt the door from the inside and I'll have to sleep on the porch. My brother, who is 17, can come in any old time "because he is a boy."

I seldom stay out past midnight, but when I go to a party or a dance I don't want the humiliation of telling my date I must be in by midnight. He'd wonder what sort of a girl I am that I'm on such a short leash. What shall I do?—CONNIE.

Apparently your father doesn't realize that his little girl is a grown woman, soon old enough to vote. Tell him you can't accept his unreasonable edict and if he bolts you out of the house you'll move out bag and baggage the next day. Then do it.

DEAR ANN: I'm only 14 but my troubles are as serious as some of the older people who cry on your shoulder.

I fell in love last year with the most gorgeous fellow in school. Of course I was only 13 then and he ignored me because he was 17. Now that I'm 14 and more grown up I thought he'd change, but he hasn't. I've seen him in movies but he never tries to sit by me. At dances he doesn't come near me. On the bus he'd rather stand than share my seat.

Last week I asked him why he ignored me and he told me to "get lost." I'll never love anyone the way I love him. What can I do?—BOOTSIE.

Take his advice and get lost—for about two years. He's make it plain that he's not interested, so put away the track shoes and leave him alone. A girl 14 is too young for a boy 18. If you keep pestering him you'll kill your chances for later. So do like the boy says.

Appleton Music Parents association opened the year Wednesday with a potluck dinner meeting at the Appleton High school cafeteria. Helping themselves from the buffet table, from left, are E. A. Tilly, AHS orchestra instructor, Russell Thorne, new AHS orchestra instructor, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Borsche, hospitality chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roelof, co-presidents.

Seven Methods Help Girl To Achieve Charm, Poise

You can earn your charm badge with a minimum of effort. You don't need to be the most popular girl in class to win friends. Seven keys to the magical world of parties, invitations, dates and boys should bring out the hidden glamor in a girl.

What are those little keys? Hair is one. It can be a frame of enchantment if it is coiffed. Nightly pin-ups may be a tiresome chore, but the girl who prefers a witch coil will find herself relegated to the broom every time in the estimation of her girl and boy friends.

A home permanent wave is hair insurance for the younger set, easy to do and inexpensive. The rod-type waves will last from three to four months. Keep your hair shampooed if you'd make an impression for beauty.

Complexion
Complexion is the number two key. A skin that is kept clean and clear by good diet will not need day and night creams. Lipstick is a fine note. Eyebrow makeup that emphasizes the eyes can improve them for a gala occasion, but often that is all that is necessary.

Figure your form as the number three requirement of good grooming. If you are sloppy—loose girdle and bra, baggy stockings, out-of-proportion hemline, crooked shoe heels, you've lost a point. If you are overweight by all means cut down on your calories—not the important ones, but the excess accumulation of sugar, starches, fats.

Fourth—your hands. If you are a nail biter, realize how repulsive the sight of your nails is to others, and how vulgar the habit is in their presence. Make an honest effort to give it up in the interest of better hand grooming. Keep your nails clean.

Quality in Clothes
Five is for clothes. If you're on a budget aim for fewer but better clothes, rather than lots of casually chosen articles just to fill up your wardrobe. "work" (school) and play brush, shoe shine kit and sewing kit to keep wearables in good repair.

Six is for accessories. These are the little odds and ends that dress up your wardrobe—the white collars and cuffs, belts, bags, earrings, pins. Choose one good belt, bag or pin rather than a drawer full of you'd look chic at all times, and your budget is limited.

If you can afford just one pair of earrings, choose a good pair of pearls, silver or gold earrings, depending on your budget or a gift from someone, and bank on them to last indefinitely. They'll save you money in the long run, and you'll look smarter.

And here comes number seven, strictly from heaven—that's a great big smile and an optimistic attitude toward life. People just don't want to be around weary drearies. It's still true that when you laugh, the whole world wants to share the enthusiasm. For some people, it's hard to come by.

Mother's Helper
by Heilmann & Pearson

NOW THAT the novelty of going back to school is wearing off, your son may lose interest in looking neat each day. You might point out that school is his "office," learning is his "job." Be sure he has a clean outfit every morning. And it's best to make a definite distinction between (school) and play clothes.

'Summer and Smoke' Theater-Goers to View Work by Williams, Current Drama Leader

Tennessee Williams, one of America's most celebrated contemporary playwrights, is the author of "Summer and Smoke" which will open the theater season at Lawrence college this weekend. Performances will be held at 8:15 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Memorial union.

The Attic theater, Appleton summer group, will be the guest company presenting the performance before the Lawrence college theater swings into operation for the year. Mrs. F. Theodore Cloak is director of the production, and several Lawrence students appear in the cast.

Prolific Writer
While not one of Williams' prize-winning dramas, "Summer and Smoke", produced in 1948, received good reviews with Geraldine Page as Alma, the prudish daughter of a minister in a small southern town. This play was presented eight years after Williams' initial story, "Battle of Angels," was finished.

Then came "The Glass Menagerie" in 1944; "You Touch Me", in 1946; and "Streetcar Named Desire" in 1947. The latter and "The Rose Tattoo" (1950) are his best known plays. "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is becoming more and more well-known as the movie version covers the country.

Through the years Williams has maintained the same attitude toward his writing. He does it eight hours a day as a business, because he enjoys it and knows it best. The types of people he met on his wanderings through the South provide the characters for his plays. He is able to condense the attitudes and prejudices of the South into the length of a play so that an accurate and intense picture is obtained.

Artful Contrast Key To Table Setting of Grace, Loveliness

Creative table setting is very much an art, but it does not need to be difficult. And any artist will tell you that contrast is one of the strongest tools in the artist's repertoire.

One way that contrasts can be used in table settings is by varying dull surfaces with shiny ones.

If you plan to use a considerable amount of gleaming silver with your fine china, the use of a dull finished tablecloth can provide a contrast which is most welcome. The highly finished satin or damask cloth tends to make such a table setting monotonous. In the same way, a rough linen cloth is an effective foil for a setting using a plain glass, a simple burnished or polished silver pattern and a plate with little or no pattern. In the same manner, a coarse-textured cloth goes very well with the coarse texture of colorful earthenware.

On the other hand, if you have a tablecloth which is boldly patterned or in some way tastefully dominant, your fine china, glass and silverware should be planned to be subordinate to the cloth. In the same way, an elegantly patterned fine china or silver can be allowed to be the dominant feature of the table. Other elements should remain plain and in the background in order to highlight the beauty of the dominant element.

Effective Color Contrast
If your china has only one or two color tones, color contrast with the cloth is effective. Ware decorated with a sepia-brown pattern will stand out most effectively against a gray cloth. A blue-green rimmed pattern might be effectively displayed against a pastel yellow cloth.

White should always be treated as a color. A plain white cloth makes an effective

Working Women

Today's woman lives 11 years longer than the 1900 model. She is marrying younger, completing her family sooner and then, in spite of general opposition, going back to work.

Public opinion so far has not kept pace with this fact of modern life. Many employers take a dim view of hiring older women workers, and some labor unions oppose the idea too. But the experts say that in seven short years, this mature matron will be the only answer to an anticipated manpower shortage.

At this moment in a changing woman's world many a middle-aged woman with grown children is eager to get a job—to supplement the family income, to keep busy. She is likely to find it hard to land, even when employers are short-handed.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says in the National Manpower Council's newly published "Work in the Lives of Married Women" that employment opportunities have been denied older workers by discriminatory practices and because of out-and-out myths.

Ways With Kids

It's a good idea to have children's snacks ready for them when they come home from school. If sandwich, crackers, fruit or usual fare is at hand, they will not interrupt you in the event you are busy with other chores or entertaining guests in the afternoon.

Place personal name tapes inside of children's galoshes and caps so there will be no confusion as to which belongs to whom. These can go inside of gloves also.

Women's Job Chances Hurt By Employers' Misconceptions

Today's woman lives 11 years longer than the 1900 model. She is marrying younger, completing her family sooner and then, in spite of general opposition, going back to work.

Public opinion so far has not kept pace with this fact of modern life. Many employers take a dim view of hiring older women workers, and some labor unions oppose the idea too. At this moment in a changing woman's world many a middle-aged woman with grown children is eager to get a job—to supplement the family income, to keep busy. She is likely to find it hard to land, even when employers are short-handed.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says in the National Manpower Council's newly published "Work in the Lives of Married Women" that employment opportunities have been denied older workers by discriminatory practices and because of out-and-out myths.

Hiring Policies

"In the past, many management have had an employment policy completely disassociated from union

rules, by which they would not hire anybody over 40," the secretary asserts. "Their reasons were varied: pension considerations, or the expectation of absenteeism prob-

This is the second of a 3-part series based on the report of the National Manpower Council, "Work in the Lives of Married Women." The modern woman's place in the U. lems, or welfare and health difficulties. In this area, management could change its policy with less difficulty than it expects."

Personnel expert Howard S. Kaltenborn outlines in the book some of the most-often heard reasons for restrictions on hiring older women: they are slower and thus less productive; absent from work more often than younger women; higher turnover; less mechanical ability than men; emotionally more unstable; more inflexible and set in their ways; greatly increase the cost of financing employee pension plans.

"Most of these alleged liabilities of older women workers are based on hearsay and uninformed opinion, or at best on isolated examples," says Kaltenborn. "The few limited studies that have been made indicate that some of the most widely held of these employer beliefs are erroneous."

Little Difference

One detailed study found no difference in job performance between younger and older women workers; little difference in absenteeism—and that older workers had better job turnover records than younger ones.

In spite of barriers and handicaps, however, women in their 30s, 40s and even 50s continue to reenter the labor force in increasing numbers. A recent Census Bureau report found that "the continuing uptrend in working women 35 years old and over has been one of the most striking labor market developments in the past several decades."

Since the end of World War II, the number has jumped by 50 per cent while the numbers

Towels, Shower Curtains Best With Monogram

Every woman likes monogrammed bathroom accessories, such as towels and shower curtain.

Nowadays it's easy to do your own monogramming, with the aid of the new automatic sewing machines or attachments.

Here's how to do it: Trace design on cotton satin. Back with organdy, cut out, leaving an inch margin all around and baste in place on towel or curtain.

Set your automatic slant-needle sewing machine or automatic zigzag attachment for a narrow satin stitch, and stitch slowly around outline of monogram. When stitching is completed, cut away excess fabric close to the line of stitching.

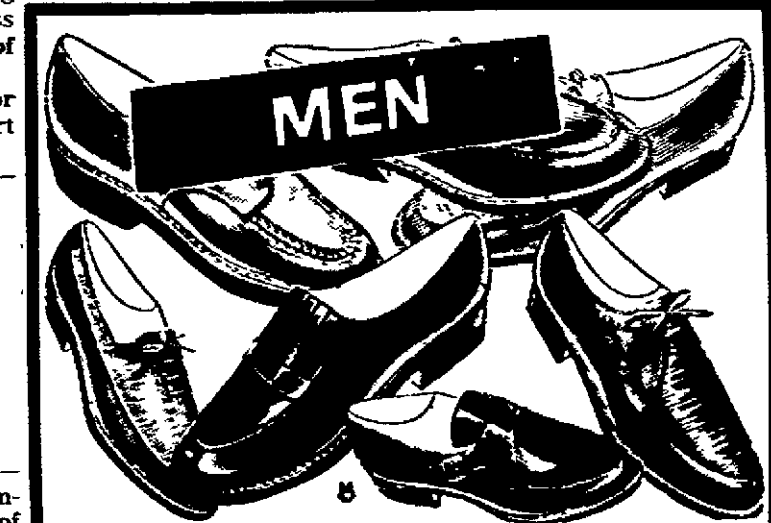

This also is a great idea for Christmas gifts, if you start early.

most no channeling either from precedent or from counselling agencies," said Professor Lloyd-Jones. "Mature women are going back into the labor market in spite of social resistance and in spite of a considerable amount of verbally expressed opposition to its happening." And far-sighted employers, implies the tone of the entire book, better get with the trend if they hope to survive.

Our Children

BY ANGELO PATRI
A recurring problem that troubles many parents of agencies, the parents and the adopted children needs attention from all who are concerned in this situation, the assure that the adoption shall be a success even to the point of appearing fussy, but even then they often fail to assure the parents that they need not fear for the mental and physical well-being of the child.

When the child begins to express his personality the parents are on the watch for any indication of variance from perfection. If the child had been their own they would not have been so edgy, so fearful of what the next stage of growth might bring but let the adopted child so much as have a temper tantrum, they are frightened.

Worry Begins
Is this child really normal? Is he going to be unmanageable after all? Have they made a mistake and brought trouble on themselves? After all they have no idea of who and what the parents of this child were? Such thoughts fly through their minds and shake their faith in the future of the child and sometimes make them harsh in their treatment of him.

Harsh treatment of even the brightest most able child will confuse him and make him appear other than he is mentally and physically. Force expressed in anger or in physical punishment never yet helped anybody (child or adult) discover his best abilities. Love has; understanding affection has; gentleness and sympathy and faith have. One thing all parents must accept whether their children are their own or adopted and that is each one is a new person on earth and differs from every other on it even his identical twin. No parent however hopeful and understanding can put himself inside his child's skin and act for him. The one special privilege each of us has is that of thinking and doing as himself.

Herb Butters on Toasty Bread Good Fare After a Stint Outdoors

Serve With Chili and Hot Cider

After-game food fare for football fans on brisk fall days and late evening snacks on chill autumn nights are best appreciated when zesty, steamy hot and substantial. Quick warmer-uppers within the oven with cheese for tangy tastes that bring a cozy, toasty feeling hit the spot, too, after a stint at raking leaves, taking down the summer screens or chopping wood for the fireplace.

Something simple but with a special something different is called for on these nippy days and nights. . . and such an unusual touch is provided by herb butters on the star of the menu, a large platter of cold pie item in any autumn menu, crunches breads. The herb combination dramatizes a simple, easy - to - fix supper built around a big bowl of chili, crusty French rolls and oversized mugs of hot coffee or cider.

There's almost no time involved in preparing this tempting meal. The bread comes packaged to brown-good, and-serve as long French loaves or to divide into four separate French rolls. Some of the unusual herb butter toppings follow:

Oregano Cheese
 1 cup butter
 2 teaspoons oregano
 3 tablespoons parmesan cheese

Melt butter. Break French loaves into four rolls and slice through middle lengthwise. Brush with butter, sprinkle with cheese and follow with oregano. Heat in medium hot oven eight to 10 minutes until brown.

For the long loaves sliced French style or for the individual rolls, herb-butters with seeds make delicious, crunchy toppings.

Herb Butter-Seed Top
 1 cup butter
 1 tablespoon whole celery seed, parsley flakes, caraway seed, cumin seed or sesame seed
 1 teaspoon onion or garlic salt

Soften butter. Mix with onion or garlic salt. Slice bread diagonally into eight slices without cutting through the bottom crust. Spread mixture between slices. Sprinkle with one of the above seeds or parsley flakes.

To make individual rolls, break into four sections and slice through center lengthwise. Spread with butter mixture and then sprinkle with seed.

Place in a shallow pan, aluminum foil or foil-lined package that bread comes in. Heat in 425-degree oven eight to 10 minutes or until top is crispy brown. Serves four to eight.

Another wonderful treat with this French bread is to overlap triangles of gouda, Swiss, sharp cheddar or munster cheese wedges on the open French rolls.

These come out with crusty brown edges and lightly toasted centers if rolls are first spread with softened butter, toasted for five minutes with out cheese and then replaced in the oven with cheese for tangy tastes that bring a cozy, toasty feeling hit the spot, too, after a stint at raking leaves, taking down the summer screens or chopping wood for the fireplace.

With several pre-mixed herb-butters on the table, guests can choose whichever one they prefer to spread on their hot, toasted, split French rolls.

Another twist for a party menu possibility to serve with a salad, hot casserole or soup is a large platter of cold meats and cheeses for do-it-yourself sandwiches with the combination dramatizes a simple, easy - to - fix supper.

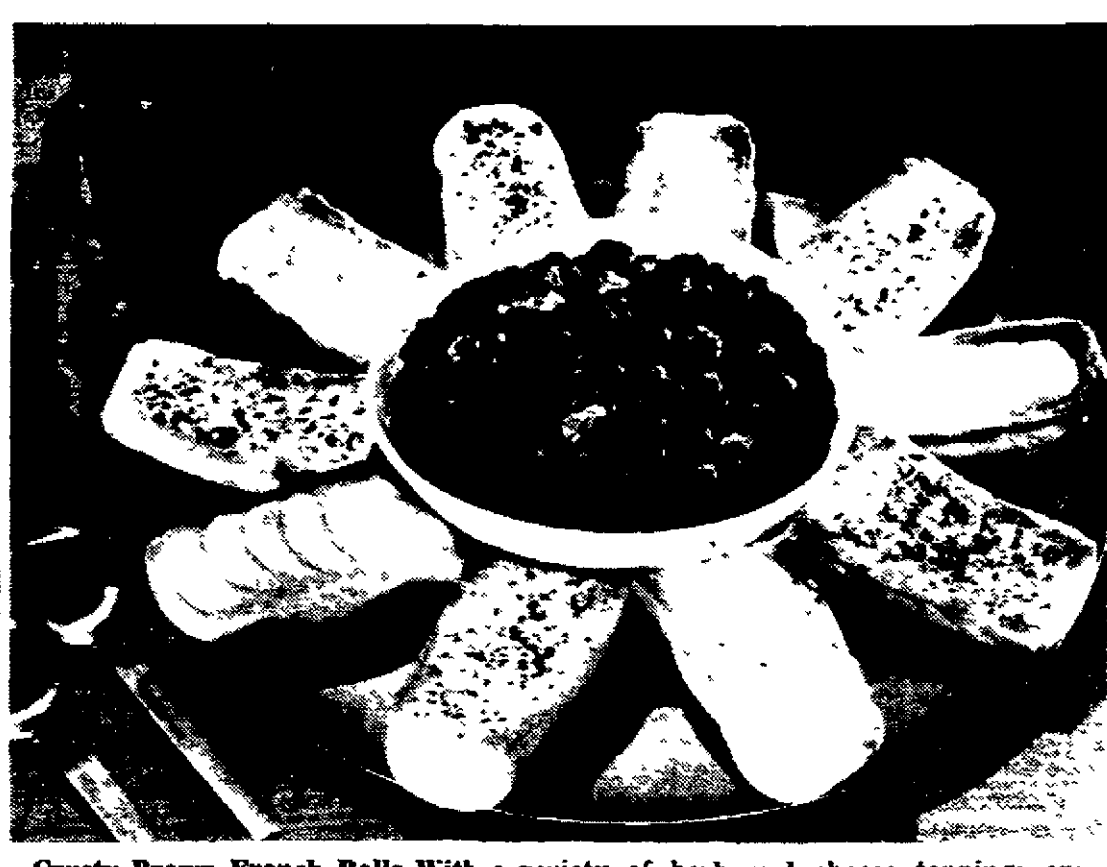

French rolls are a wonderful base for Dagwood sandwiches. As a bottom layer for creamed chipped beef, chicken ala king, lobster Newburg, day.

The findings were made in a comparison of pre-1945 food samples with more recent samples.

The year 1945 marked the advent of the atomic age, with explosion of the first atomic bombs. It was assumed no significant man-made radioactive contamination existed before then.

Edwin P. Laug and Wendell C. Wallace of FDA disclosed results of the two-year study meeting and Kay Fuchs reported on her attendance at the annual convention of the association of Badger Girls' state. The "Mikado" will be presented at the high school Oct. 23.

Crusty Brown French Rolls With a variety of herb and cheese toppings are a delicious complement for hot fall dishes. Served with a big bowl of chili and a hot drink, they make a fine, quick snack after a football game or brisk autumn hike.

Little Gain in Food Radioactivity

Washington—The great majority of foods covered in a special study show no significant increases in radioactivity since 1945, the food and drug administration reported today.

Veterans' Day Party Planned for Marion

The Pioneer Housewife wouldn't have believed her eyes if she saw the preparation of this new-fashioned apple butter. No big tub, no long stirring with a wooden paddle, it's made in a jiffy with an electric blender. What's more, its calorie content is minimized by using a non-caloric sweetener in the recipe.

Sees Need for Another Means Of Financing
Sacramento, Calif. —(P)—The advent of missiles, rockets and space travel may require an entirely new means of financing besides money, the head of a California missile company said Tuesday.
Dan A. Kimball, president of Aerojet - General corporation, told the 38th annual conference of the California-Nevada - Hawaii district of Kiwanis international:
"If a whole new world is being born—and that is just what is happening—it's going to cost a lot of money."
"It may be that some entirely new system besides money may have to be created to sustain and push ahead all these developments—just as money had to be invented when barter wasn't adequate for the growing exchange of goods and services many years ago."
Kimball was secretary of the navy under President Truman.

3 tablespoons sweetener solution
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves

Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until thickened, about 45 minutes. Pour boiling hot into sterilized jars and seal at once.
Makes two and one-half cups. Each tablespoon contains 11 calories; trace of protein; trace of fat; 3 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each tablespoon would contain 40 calories.

Horseradish Serves As Subtle Seasoning
How to use horseradish is no problem for those who use it generously because they like its hot, spicy flavor.
But there are many more uses for horseradish where it is used in small amounts as a subtle seasoning in soups, sauces, dressings, and in preparing meats and seafoods.
For example, a teaspoon of horseradish to each quart of any meat stock soup will add a delightful flavor, yet no horseradish taste is evident.
Caesar Cardini creator of the famous Caesar's salad uses horseradish in his dressing yet few people are aware of it.

UW Professor Will Speak at Lawrence
Prof. Walter R. Agard, of the University of Wisconsin classics department, will address the freshman studies classes in the Lawrence Memorial chapel at 11 a.m. Oct. 28. Seats in the balcony are open to the public.
Dr. Agard, on the University of Wisconsin faculty since 1927, will speak on "The Greek View of Man," in connection with the study of Aeschylus' "Prometheus" and Sophocles' "Antigone" by the freshman classes. He has addressed similar groups here several times previously.

Cardinal Will Not Attend Roman Conclave
Zagreb, Yugoslavia —(P)—Ailing Cardinal Stepinac will not apply for permission to go to Rome for the conclave that will elect the new pope, reliable church sources said Tuesday.
Cardinal Stepinac, 60 spiritual leader of Yugoslavia's Roman Catholics, is confined to his native village of Krasic, 40 miles northwest of here, since he was paroled from prison by the government in 1951.
His decision reportedly came on advice of his doctors, who advised him the trip to Rome would be too strenuous. Cardinal Stepinac twice was critically ill this year from a blood ailment.
Cardinal Stepinac also is known to fear the government may refuse to let him return if it grants him permission to leave the country. Yugoslav authorities have said that a request for a passport would be considered, if submitted.

Hearings Extended On Curtailment of Railroad Service
Chicago —(P)—Hearings have been continued until Jan. 5 on the application of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad to abandon service on its 89 mile Skokie Valley route between Chicago and Milwaukee.
Both the interstate and Illinois commerce commissions Tuesday ordered the postponement sought by S. A. Guthrie, attorney representing 12 towns opposing the discontinuance.
The postponement also was asked by Ellis A. Ballard, special assistant attorney for Illinois, and U.S. Rep. Margaret Church.
Mrs. Church said congress was considering proposals to grant relief to suburban railroads.

Recipes for Cake Frostings Come From Far North, South

BY FRANK KOHLER

From way up at Alert Bay, British Columbia, O. L. McDonald, sends us Seven Minute Frosting.

"I happen to be cooking on one of the fisherie boats and I have a lot of interest in cooking. . . . this recipe is very simple if you can stand the heat." His Kohler galley must need a new exhaust ventilator. Fisherie officials please note.

Worth, Texas, says this is an old southern favorite.

Creole Frosting
1 cup brown sugar.
1 cup granulated sugar.
1 cup milk.
1 tablespoon butter.
1/2 cup pecans.
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Boil the sugars and milk very gently, stirring frequently. When a soft ball forms when tested in cold water, remove from heat and let stand 20 minutes. Beat until thick and creamy, then stir in the butter, nuts and vanilla and frost your cake. Now you have it—and you can eat it too!

Recipes for Clipping on Apple Dishes

Now that apples have hit the market in full supply, housekeepers on a budget will take to these recipes.

The old favorites, apple pie, baked apple or apple turnovers served hot with cream are still good standbys. These three recipes are new ideas on the same theme, everyone worth trying.

With Pudding Sauce
Served warm and juicy, apple pie is a special treat with pork, ham or poultry dishes.

to which diced candied fruits, chopped nuts, grated lemon rind and a spot of mace are added.

Lemon Applesauce
The answer to extra-special applesauce flavor is in a few fresh lemon slices added while cooking and removed before serving. Toss in some raisins, too and serve warm with cream as a perfect breakfast starter.

Peaches Apples
Combine two cups water, one cup sugar and two tablespoons cinnamon candy drops. Bring to a boil and boil five minutes. Peel core and quarter three large cooking apples. Add to sugar syrup and cook until tender, five to seven minutes. Serve as a special treat with pork, ham or poultry dishes.

A total of 182 students completed the Appleton Vocation-al school's summer driver training program, AVS Director Carl G. Bertram reports.

The total includes 37 high school students and 145 adults, he said. Twenty-three adult applicants will be handled next year.

Total disbursements amounted to $3,910, Bertram stated. The figure included $3,249, instructional costs, and $611 for supplies and equipment. The school received $2,719 from student fees.

Bertram said the school plans to continue the program,

For Something New in Party canapes, serve a hot dip with chilled raw vegetables. Among the crisped vegetables set out on ice are mushrooms, broccoli stalks, carrot and celery sticks, cauliflower heads and frozen asparagus spears. They not only are delicious, but way low in calorie count.

These Appetizer Ideas Low in Calories, but High in Taste Appeal

Flavorful Dips Served Hot With Crisped Vegetables for Dunking

Nibble foods we call appetizers or canapes or hors d'oeuvres must now taste good without adding much to our calorie intake.

For guests who count calories (and who doesn't) you can set up appetizers so delectable that it is hard to believe they count under 10 calories each.

Hide the salted peanuts and the potato chips. Prepare an easy and flavorful dip, served hot for the winter season, with chilled crisp vegetables for dunking.

Your large bowl of vegetables arranged on crushed ice or cubes will arouse excited comments if you include washed raw mushrooms, new broccoli stalks, carrots and celery sticks, cauliflower heads and even thawed and drained frozen asparagus. Add to this list of vegetable dippers: artichoke hearts, small crisp romaine leaves, fennel cut into sticks, and turnip sticks.

Low In Calories
The dips which follow are new on two counts. They are low-calorie versions of popular, appetite-teasing dips. And you may be among the first to serve them hot instead of cold, kept warm in a small chafing dish over very low heat, or on an electric warming tray set at low heat. To serve more than one hot dip conveniently from a chafing dish or electric skillet, fill pan one-half full with hot water and set dips in heat-proof bowls in the water bath.

Tomato Bagna Cauda
A low-calorie version of a famous Italian "hot bath" for crisp vegetables.

1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon anchovy, mashed or paste
1 to 2 cloves of garlic, mashed to a paste with a dash of pepper, pinch of tarragon
Heat and keep hot over an alcohol burner or small electric unit. Yield: about one cup.

Zesty Hot Dip
1 pint cottage cheese
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 envelope dehydrated onion soup mix
Beat cottage cheese and buttermilk until smooth. Stir in the onion soup mix, straight from its envelope. Just before serving, heat slowly, stirring constantly. To keep hot for a long period, set in heat-proof bowl, over hot water. Serve with crisp cold vegetables for dipping—and guests will marvel at the flavor. Yield: Generous two cups.

Curried Shrimp Dip
1 can (10 oz.) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup defrosted
1/2 cup dry vermouth
1-1/2 teaspoon curry
Combine all ingredients. Stir over low heat until blended. Mash shrimp in sauce with fork. Keep hot over an alcohol burner or small electric unit. Yield: About one and three-fourths cups.

You may want to have a tray of additional low-calorie nibbles ready in the refrigerator. These may be made up in advance, and served along with the hot dips, or brought out after the party is under way. Each is under 10 calories.

Anchovy Radishes
Trim each radish, leaving a few short green stems for a handle; wrap each with one-half anchovy.

Melon and Beef
Cut ripe cantaloupe into small cubes. Roll small pieces of thin-sliced dried beef, and secure each to a cantaloupe cubes with a toothpick.

Shrimp On Cucumber
Boil small shrimp, season well. Or drain a can of tiny pink shrimp. Peel and slice a cucumber, and place shrimp on each cucumber slice. Sprinkle with lemon juice, add a dab of cocktail sauce.

Vocational School Picks Architects

Raymond N. LeVe and associates, Appleton architects, will draw plans for the Appleton Vocational school trades building addition. Carl G. Bertram, AVS director, said today.

The 75 by 864-foot structure will be located east of the present trades building. Estimated cost of the project is $71,000, Bertram said.

The school will advertise for bids in January and hopes to let contracts early in February, pending city council approval. Work will be completed by September, 1959.

College to Benefit From Grant of Ford Foundation

Lawrence college ultimately will profit from a grant made this week to the Associated Colleges of the Midwest by the Ford foundation.

Since the Associated Colleges are not incorporated, grants must be made to specific member institutions, and Cornell college was chosen to receive this first grant of $25,000 from the Ford foundation. It will support a program of analytical studies concerning educational management among the 10 colleges of the conference. The funds will not be used for Cornell's internal program, but to explore possibilities of group association among the conference members — Beloit, Carleton, Coe, Cornell, Grinnell, Knox, Lawrence, Monmouth, Ripon and St. Olaf.

Stephensville Man Sees Mother After 30 Years

Stephensville—Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Learman, Sr., route 1, Hortonville, have returned from a 2-week trip to the West coast where they visited Mrs. Mary Learman at Seattle, Wash. She is Learman's mother whom he has not seen for 30 years.

Board Members Fed

Marion — The school board members and their wives were entertained at a buffet supper at the school cafeteria by the Marion Teachers association.

Horse, Cow Barn Once Stood on Village Hall Site

Hortonville — The present village and fire hall is built on the site of a horse and cow barn.

The first feed mill was built on Mill street, south of the bridge. The mill burned and Fred Buchman bought the horse and cow barn and added a grist mill and started a feed mill. Fred's father was a cobbler and had a shop where Byrons restaurant is now located. It burned about 1899.

Fred's son, John, later took over the mill. John and a brother, Leonard, still live in Hortonville.

Teenager's Prize-Winning Cake Called 'Double Date'

A devil's food cake, called "Double Date," was the jun-ior winner in the recent na-tional bake-off in New York City.

The first place prize in the junior division was won by a high school home economics student of Grand Forks, N.D., Mary Ann Wasyliow.

Mary Ann has been cooking since she was 6 and is one of 11 children of a widowed mother. She was in the same competition that brought fame to Mrs. Donald de Vault, Delaware, Ohio, housewife whose Spicy Apple Twists won the grand first prize.

Here is Mary Ann's prize recipe:

Double Date Devils Food
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
1 cup shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 unbeaten eggs
3 squares (3 ounces) un-sweetened chocolate, melted
1 1/2 cups water
Date Filling
Marshmallow Frosting
Sift flour with soda and salt and set aside.

shortening, creaming well. Blend in vanilla and eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Stir in melted chocolate. Add dry ingredients alternately with water, begin-ning and ending with dry in-gredients. Blend thoroughly after each addition. (With electric mixer use a low speed.)

Pour into three 8 or 9-inch round layer pans, well greas-ed and lightly floured on the bottoms.

Bake in 350-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes until cake springs back when touched lightly in center. Cool.

Put layers together with Date Filling and top with Marshmallow Frosting.

Honeck Asks Approval for Midwest Gas

Says New Company Would Put State
On Major Pipeline

Washington —P— Atty. Gen. Stewart Honeck of Wisconsin filed a statement with the Federal Power Commission Wednesday asking that Midwest Gas Transmission company be given permission to bring natural gas from Canada to serve 31 north central Wisconsin communities.

"Midwest's proposal, would, for the first time," Honeck stated, "place Wisconsin on a major natural gas pipeline on which it would depend for service instead of being served at the end of other pipelines, where, up until the present, we have been treated by our present supplier almost as an unwanted step-child."

"Midwest's proposal would bring natural gas service to some 31 Wisconsin communities embracing the entire northern half of the state."

Chronically Short
Further, it would pass through the southern Wisconsin areas now served by Michigan Wisconsin Pipeline company, and, with adequate natural gas resources, could sell gas, by an inter-connection through Michigan Wisconsin, which seems to be chronically short of gas."

Michigan Wisconsin pipeline is a subsidiary of the American Natural Gas company, which presently supplies about 90 per cent of the natural gas delivered in Wisconsin.

American Gas was charged in a grand jury indictment at Milwaukee earlier this year with violation of the federal anti-trust laws by conspiring to prevent Midwest from bringing gas into Wisconsin. The case is pending in the U.S. district court at Milwaukee.

$2,500,000 Bet Luxurious North Western Trains Bold Gamble, Promise Fulfilled

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Chicago — The luxurious new Chicago and North Western passenger trains unveiled here Tuesday are a bold gamble and a pledge fulfilled.

They represent a cash outlay of $2,500,000, a sizeable bet by the railroad that the 25-year trend in declining passenger patronage can be stemmed.

They also represent fulfillment of the railroad's promise of a year ago that new trains would be placed on Wisconsin routes if the state permitted discontinuance of 18 unprofitable passenger trains.

The $2,500,000 set of double-deck streamliners are the first complete new trains purchased by the North Western in 12 years.

The 13 new and four reconstructed cars start regular runs along the Lake Michigan shore, through the Fox Cities and into the upper peninsula on Oct. 26. They will be known as the Peninsula 400 and the Green Bay 400.

The new cars defy more than a century of railroading tradition. They are described by their builder, Pullman - Standard Car Manufacturing company, as "among the finest in modern day passenger equipment."

The cars are nearly 16 feet high, about 24 feet higher than the usual equipment. The extra height permits the use of double-deck seating arrangement, or about 96 seats against the conventional 64. Their length is the standard 85 feet.

The lounge is the most attractive feature. It permits passengers to sit at tables on both the first and second levels, with clear, spacious views of the countryside. Decorative schemes are attractive. Furniture is modern. Lounge service has a new design. This is the first time the conventional trains which now

North Western will use double-decks on long-haul runs.

Up to now, the railroad has confined such equipment to its suburban routes in the Chicago area.

One of the engineering novelties is the central power unit in the diesel locomotive. It provides power for heating, lighting and air-conditioning of the entire train, eliminating need for heavy steam pipes, compressors and related equipment normally carried under each car.

The four reconstructed cars were rebuilt by Pullman to conform in size and mechanical features with the bi-level design, although they will retain a single interior level.

Hosts at a press preview of the new trains Tuesday were Ben W. Heineman, railroad chairman, and C. J. Fitzpatrick, railroad president.

Reduced Loss
Heineman, former chairman of Clintonville's Four Wheel Drive corporation, took over the road two years ago and immediately started the railroad industry and the country with some of the innovations he proposed.

He has reduced operating losses from about 5 million a year to about $500,000. He has shown he is determined to revive passenger business and cut out further unnecessary operating losses.

"There's a notion," he said, "that railroad people don't want passenger business, but that's nonsense. Demand and need are disappearing in some areas, but we hope these trains will help reverse the downward tide."

If the new bi-levels are successful, Heineman said the North Western seriously will consider adding such equipment to some of the other runs. "If they don't, then that's another thing," he added.

The railroad hopes to cut maintenance expenses by as much as 50 per cent from the Barbara Bradley and Mary Urban.

Two Waste Paper Grades Get Price Hikes to '58 Highs

Chicago—Waste paper prices last week advanced $2 to $5 a ton in the midwest, bringing two important papermaking grades to 1958 highs.

The advances reflect continued strong demand for raw materials from paperboard makers, who are currently operating mills at near record highs. Last week paperboard mills produced 308,000 tons, the third highest for a week on record, and the week before a 311,000-ton output set a record.

Adding strength to the midwest market are tight supplies and higher prices at other important supply areas, especially in the east. Dealers attribute part of the advance to although dealers predicted a $2.50 rise. This would bring the first of each month.

Old newspapers carry a mill price of $30 a ton and corrugated waste is listed at $27. Mixed paper holds at $9 a ton. This grade advanced $2 to $40 price because of tight supplies and manila tabular when price boosts ranged from $2 to $5 a ton. Old newspapers also went up $2 the middle of last month. Mills usually set buying quotations the first of each month.

colored ledgers to a $47.50 delivered price.

NOTES and NOTIONS

LAST WEEK				SEASON TOTALS
Hits	Misses	Ties	Pct.	Hits	Misses	Ties	Pct.
20	5	1	80	67	22	1	75.8

Pretty fair success in every conference but the FRVC (3 of the 5 misses came there) gives ye olde "gazer" the courage to face this week's challenging slate of football games.

Packers over Redskins—The teams appear evenly matched, but we'll give the nod to the Bays because they're due to get a few breaks. Besides, Bart Starr found the range last Sunday, and he's not likely to lose it this soon.

Starr Wisconsin over Iowa—How can you pick against a team that hasn't even been extended to date? The Badgers will be extended in this one—and plenty—but their defense is tighter than the Hawks' and their attack just about as good.

Carleton over Lawrence—The Vikes' play against Ripon indicated that better days may be ahead, but they likely won't start until after Saturday's visit to Northfield. In their "loaded" first half schedule, the Vikes have been called upon to face the three best teams in the circuit (Coe, Ripon, Carleton).

Neenah over Menasha—This has the earmarks of M-E's game of the year and could very well decide the championship—although the winner, whoever it is, has one more tough foe left after Friday. Coach Carl Steffin's Jays, who have been soaring higher by the week, have been solid defensively and their running game

Steffin has been hard to check. But a more diversified offense and a proven ability in recent years to rise to needed heights on defense prompts us to give an ever-so-slight crystal-ball edge to the Rockets.

Appleton over Oshkosh—A couple of hungry teams could do unpredictable things in a game that figures close on paper. The Terror offense has been good enough to win two games this season (to Oshkosh's one) and it should be good enough again—especially if AHS can get a full game out of that up-and-coming young quarterback, John Nussbaum.

Boston college over Marquette—This is one of the few games this season the Warriors have a genuine chance of winning. However, I'm afraid the surrendering of 90

Ripon—Open date.

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Because of an explosive, 5-foot-10, 165-pound football package named Al Schmucker, Lawrence coaches Bernie Heselson, Don Boya and Gene Davis have probably had little or no chance to watch late movies on television this week.

Chances are, Commander Heselson and his two aides-de-camp have been burning the midnight mazdas trying to plan and perfect a handcuffing defense for Carleton's wonder boy.

Another All-MC Player
The Vikes, who have just washed senior all-conference fullback Dave Smith, of Ripon, out of their hair after three trying seasons, face one final encounter with Schmucker, another all-conference senior.

That meeting comes off at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at Northfield, Minn., which is to Midwest conference athletics what Chicago is to major league baseball. Northfield is the only 2-college community in the MC, while Chicago is the only current 2-team major league city.

It was Smith's 3-touchdown avalanche that neutralized underdog Lawrence's terrific effort last Saturday—a showing that caused Ripon Coach John Storz to comment, "I could have eaten cactus."

Schmucker, who means as much to the Carleton Knights' attack as Smith does to Ripon's, is the sword Lawrence must dull if it is to entertain upset hopes.

Schmucker leads conference scorers with 38 points. Last year, in gaining all-MC honors, Al was second in the circuit with 60 points. And, for the second straight year he set a new Carleton ground-gaining record.

Nets 747 Yards
Schmucker netted almost half of the team's 1958 rushing yardage (747 for a 4.5-yard average) and about three-quarters of its passing yardage (227 on 16-for-43).

The Vikes cannot afford to put all their defensive eggs in one basket. For, just as Ripon's Smith brought several dangerous backfield colleagues along, Schmucker has a sidekick—Norm Miner—who'll bear lots of watching. Miner is tied for fifth in MC scoring, with 18 points, and

Perini Says He Doesn't Intend To Sell Braves

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Milwaukee Braves owner Lou Perini said Wednesday night, "I never intend to sell the Braves."

Perini's comment was sought after a report from Chicago said the National league champion baseball club would be sold to the Miller Brewing company of Milwaukee.

Joseph Cairnes, president of the Braves, said he had heard some of the rumors but insisted there is nothing to any of them.

Predicts Yanks Will Make It 5 Flags in a Row

BY JOE REICHLER
New York — "Casey" Stengel, fortified with a new 2-year, $80,000 per season contract, predicts his New York Yankees will make it five American league pennants in a row next year.

"If I didn't think we'd win again," he told a mammoth press conference, "I wouldn't have signed this piece of paper."

Needs Pitcher
The 68-year-old pilot, still flush with what he called his greatest World Series triumph, said he would seek to strengthen the club for next year by trades.

"We could use another pitcher, another outfielder and a righthanded punch hitter. I'd say that this past year I was weaker than I've ever been during my 10 years

Druze Lectures MU '11' About Lack of Spirit

Milwaukee — Marquette's football Warriors practiced with renewed spirit Wednesday in the wake of Coach Johnny Druze's lecture about not playing hard enough against Penn State.

"I think the movies were enough to wake a few of them up," said Druze, "and the number of shifts we've made this week have sort of awakened them to what their possibilities are."

The Warriors, who lost, 40-

8, to Penn State, play host to Boston college Saturday night. Marquette again is rated the underdog.

Ernie Safran was working Wednesday at second string quarterback in support of Pete Hall, the No. 1 signal caller. Safran was playing halfback before he was shifted back to his 1957 post.

Reserve Bob Gaisbauer performed well as he drilled to take over Safran's halfback post. Reserve Mike Donnelly also looked good as he studied the job of fullback Frank Mestmk, sidelined by a cut over his eye.

The only regular who may miss Saturday's game is tackle Jim Szwark, who has a sore shoulder. Tom Velsch, a former center, and Joe Anderer are competing for his post.

Badgers Installed as Slight Favorites Over Hawkeyes

Saturday Tilt Is Iowa's 1st On the Road

Madison — Wisconsin's fourth-ranked football team will probably have to expose its hand Saturday when it meets the Iowa Hawkeyes in a crucial Big Ten battle here.

The undefeated Badgers, in rolling over Purdue, Marquette and Miami, have played it close to the vest. They have relied on a rugged, tight ground game, content to turn opponents' mistakes into touchdowns. They are a slight favorite, mainly because the game is here instead of at Iowa City.

The Wisconsin coaching staff feels Iowa may be the most dangerous offensive team the Badgers will face this year because of the versatility of the Hawkeye attack.

Little Can Be Deduced
Faced with the explosive potential of Iowa's speedy backfield, Coach Milt Bruhn's charges are almost certain to take the wraps off their pass plays. On the basis of statistics so far, it could be concluded the Badgers don't have an aerial attack. The fact is no one has forced them to try it yet.

Because of this, little can be deduced about what kind of threat it could be to a team like Iowa. The Badgers have 16 pass completions in 39 tries for 192 yards. Against Purdue Saturday, they threw three, completing one for no gain.

One of the reasons Wisconsin may shift to a wide open offense is because Bruhn has several tall ends and backs who could give Iowa's shorter defensive men considerable trouble. Wisconsin, in Dale Hackbart and Sid Williams, has a pair of the Big Ten's best signal callers.

A Wisconsin trump card is its fine line. This is especially meaningful in light of Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski's complaint that his team has a tendency to bog down inside the 5-yard line.

First on Road
The game will be Iowa's first on the road this season. It hasn't beaten Wisconsin at Madison in 12 years. Teams coached by Evashevski, however, have broken even with the Badgers—losing three on the road and winning three at home.

Both coaches spent time in the training room this week with injured players. It looks now as if Bruhn will have everyone available except end Jim Holmes, who has seen a lot of action. Iowa will probably be without the services of fullback John Nocerni and end Al Miller.

Iowa has won from Texas Christian and Indiana this year and tied the Air Force academy. Wisconsin, with three straight, has allowed only one touchdown.

A sellout crowd of 63,710, the largest ever to see a game at Madison, has been assured. The game will be televised regionally (NBC) at 1:15.

Whittenton Works Into Bays' Defensive Setup

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Giants beat the Redskins, 21-14, last Sunday. How did they do it? New York Coach Jim Lee Howell explains it this way: "Washington's big weapon is a running attack and we stopped it cold at 69 yards. In the air we weren't too sharp as Eddie LeBaron threw for 238. Still, the boys showed in the final period they could handcuff LeBaron and everybody else."

So what's for Sunday when the Packers play the Redskins in Washington? Judging by what Jim Lee says, the Packers can expect to be rushed at real good—unless, of course, Redskin Coach Joe Kuharich feels that the Packers might be more vulnerable to passing.

Ranks Among Leaders
The Packers' defense against rushing ranks among the leaders—and, man, that's a change from the last few years. The Bays have allowed 331 yards rushing and only two teams have given up less—262 by those Giants and 274 by Baltimore. Green Bay gave the Bears 146 yards rushing, the Lions 33 and the Colts 152. Stopping up Washington's rushing rates was a difficult task and here's why: The Redskins' three big rookie rushers of a year ago are now more experienced and undoubtedly rougher to handle. As freshmen in '57, they totaled 1,522 yards (an average of 507) as Don Bosseler picked up 673, Jim Podoley 442 and Ed Sutton 407. Bosseler carried 167 times, Podoley 114 and Sutton 108.

Jesse Whittenton, the former Ram and Bear defensive back who was placed on the active list Tuesday, continues

Hayes in Crossfire Between 'Tug' Wilson And Illinois' Ray Eliot

Commissioner, Coach Reply to Charges
By Ohio State Mentor of 'Dirty Football'

Chicago—(AP)—Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, found himself in a cross fire today between Big Ten Commissioner K. L. "Tug" Wilson and Illinois Coach Ray Eliot. But Woody stood his ground and fired back.

Wilson rebuked Hayes for saying earlier this week that collegiate defenses "are getting away with a lot of dirty football" while game officials are "officiating the offense right out of existence."

Wilson said in a statement: "I assume that he (Hayes) has generalized because I saw his Illinois game of last Saturday and I observed nothing in that game which I could say supported his allegations."

Done Disservice

"He has done a disservice to college football by his broad charges which leave the public with an impression that college football is dirty, for this is not a fact."

In Columbus, Hayes shot back:

"Let them prove me wrong. If they want me to turn my films over to an unprejudiced body I'll be glad to do it."

He referred to movies of nearly 20 games played this season. Hayes said he had analyzed them and concluded the defense is getting away with dirty tactics.

Wilson also said Hayes

"knows full well that we do not condone dirty play as having a place in college. We do not permit our officials to tolerate it."

Hayes had made his remarks at a Columbus press luncheon.

In Writing

Tug Wilson said he had postponed commenting until Hayes put his charges in writing. But Wilson added he never received a letter and "I therefore have to go on what he said to the press."

Hayes countered: "I said I had communicated with him (Wilson) and I did. I talked with him by phone last Saturday night."

Eliot, whose Illini were defeated, 19-13, by the defending champion Buckeyes in Champaign, Ill., Saturday, was incensed by a published report that Hayes complained too much piling on was permitted in the game.

"I'm surprised and shocked to read of the insinuation that Illinois plays anything but a clean and fine game," he said. "Anyone who has the audacity or temerity to infer that Illinois players played anything but clean football throughout the game must be a man who is out of his mind or likes to hear himself talk."

"There are enough people already running down college football. Hayes' statements left a bad taste in the mouths of Illinois players and coaches. The last thing we want is a smear campaign. We get sick and tired of hearing the same old rantings and ravings of 'Woody' Hayes."

Jack Sealy Jolts Potent 257 Single

Jack Sealy smashed a 257 solo in Hahn's Industrial league Wednesday night, kegling for Jimos Hats. He wound up with a 561.

The game tied for fifth highest thus far in the Appleton men's kegling season.

John Cannon's 592 for first place Knoke Lumber (18-3) was the honor threesome. Other high scores: D. Feldhahn 554; G. Rohm 564; H. Simon 550; H. Horn 564.

D'Amato Considers Cooper and Johansson Worthy Challengers

BY MURRAY ROSE

New York—(AP)—The heavyweight picture is very clear today, at least in the eyes of Cus D'Amato, manager of world champion Floyd Patterson.

Here is the way D'Amato sizes it up:

1. England's Henry Cooper and Sweden's undefeated Ingemar Johansson are worthy challengers.
2. Eddie Machen (knocked out in the first round by Johansson), Zora Folley (out-pointed by Cooper) and Willie Pastrano (stopped on cuts by England's Brian London) were overrated when they were ranked 1-2-3 among the contenders. Machen, Folley and Pastrano are Americans.
3. But since everyone had ranked them 1-2-3 before, then these same people must concede the worthiness of Cooper and Johansson.
4. He will consider a title fight in London next spring or summer with Cooper but he also intends to go through with a commitment for a summer title defense in Colorado Springs, Colo. He had promised London promoter Harry Levine that if Levine had a worthy opponent he would go to London and fight for him.
5. Patterson will not fight for anyone remotely connected with the International Boxing club. And that's why he won't accept a big home television offer for a Dec. 5 fight in Madison Square garden.

Ned Irish, executive vice president of the Garden, said Wednesday that D'Amato had rejected a $300,000 bid from the National Broadcasting company on behalf of the sponsors of the IBC's Friday night fights, for a Dec. 5 fight in the garden. The unnamed opponent was expected to be Cuba's Nino Valdes. Irish said D'Amato also had turned down five other dates in the arena.

D'Amato charged that the IBC stifles competition by running both the Wednesday and Friday night television boxing shows. He has been shouting that ever since he split with the IBC nearly two years ago.

Former Minnesota All-Stater Signs With Bobcats

Green Bay — The Green Bay Bobcats of the Mid-America Hockey League have signed a former all-Minnesota High school star with Canadian experience, General Manager James C. Gallagher announced today.

He is Tom Neveau, 19-year-old defenseman who helped International Falls win the Minnesota state puck championship in 1957. Neveau, who captained the Broncos, was an all-state selection.

Tom, 5-11 and 170 pounds, spent the 1957-58 season with the Junior Canadian team Clark of Ohio State with 106 playing out of Fort Frances, Canada.

Iowa Leads Big Ten Loop In Offense

Hawks' Jaunch Tops Rushers; MSU Defensive Leader

Chicago—(AP)—Although each school has played only one conference game, the Big Ten statistical race is shaping up.

The Hawkeyes, who meet unbeaten Wisconsin Saturday, rolled up enough yardage in defeating Indiana, 34-13, last week to take a commanding edge on offense. They made 503 yards in 85 plays for a 5.92 average.

Although they threw 29 passes, the Hawkeyes established an average of 6.21 yards on the ground.

Prepare for Purdue

Michigan State, by virtue of its 12-12 tie with Michigan two weeks ago, is tops on defenses. The Spartans, preparing for Purdue this week, yielded 151 yards from scrimmage, only 57 of them by rushing.

Northwestern's sophomore quarterback, Dick Thornton, leads in total offense with 27 yards rushing and 109 passing for 136. Top passer is Iowa's Randy Duncan with nine out of 13 completions for 104 yards.

Best average by a ball carrier is 15.4 yards in seven rushes by Iowa's Ray Jaunch. His total gain of 108 yards also is tops.

Second in rushing is Don Clark of Ohio State with 106 yards in 23 trips for a 4.5 average.

Changing Attacks Keep Coaches in a Whirl

Collegians Must Set Up Different Type of Defense Almost Every Week

By The Associated Press

Don't begrudge the college football coach his daily bread. He is earning it from week to week trying to keep abreast of the changing offenses with a suitable defense. And equally important, trying to keep his own attack working.

This is a problem that bothers many coaches to the extent that some have to prepare for a different type attack each week. This entails:

1. Setting up and teaching a different type defense than the one learned the previous week.

Reasonable Facsimiles

2. Tutoring the scrubs on the opposition's plays so they can present reasonable facsimiles against the varsity.

3. Using the combination of the first two in scrimmages until the defense knows its job

Since the defensive personnel are also the offense in this primarily one-platoon era, where do they get time to polish their attack? That is the problem.

Pitt meets West Virginia in a big rivalry game and the Panthers Coach Johnny Michelosen faces his fourth offense in five games. The Mountaineers have a split-T as their basic attack, from which they have run up 122 points in four games.

Pitt, specializing more in defense than offense this season, succumbed to Michigan State's multiple offense (22-8) last week, but conquered Minnesota's split-T 13-7, Holy Cross' T-variations, 17-0, and UCLA's single wing, with balanced and unbalanced lines, 27-6.

Duke Offense Different

Notre Dame's Terry Brennan bemoaned the fact last week that his boys have not faced the same type offense, ping the ball as an end. Mitchell takes it all in stride.

games. Army's "bazooka" and "lonesome end" did them in 14-2, and this week they must face Duke's split-T and "lonesome end" (and world champion sprinter) Dave Sims.

The Blue Devils' offense still differs from Army's in many respects, but Brennan so far had to conquer Indiana's single wing, 18-0, and Southern Methodist's spreads, 14-6. He promised more offense work and Wednesday had two backfields working on offensive formations.

Picture Kansas' Jack Mitchell faces Oklahoma's "smorgasbord" offense, which has the center snapping the ball as an end. Mitchell takes it all in stride.

Braves Get Hartman, Spangler From Wichita

Morgan Also Called Up; Pitchers Johnson And Kaiser, Catcher Roselli Sent Down

Milwaukee — The Milwaukee Braves acquired the contract of pitcher Bob Hartman of Kenosha, Wednesday as they realigned player personnel in their farm system.

Hartman is one of three players the Braves called up from their Wichita farm club in return for catcher Bob Roselli and right-handed hurlers Don Kaiser and Ernie Johnson.

The 21-year-old pitcher from Kenosha won 20 games and lost 10 last season for Atlanta in the Southern association, tying for the most pitching victories in the league. He allowed opposing teams an average of 2.92 runs per 9-inning game.

Also Acquired
Also acquired from Wichita were outfielder Al Spangler, 25, of Philadelphia, and infielder Joe Morgan, 28, of Walpole Mass. Spangler batted .292 and Morgan .251 for Wichita last season in the AAA American association.

John Quinn, Braves general manager, also announced the parent team bought the con-

They are southpaw Dale Hendrickson, 22, Gering, Neb., right-hander Winston Brown, 24, from Panama, and right-hander Gerald Nelson, 24, of Beaumont, Texas.

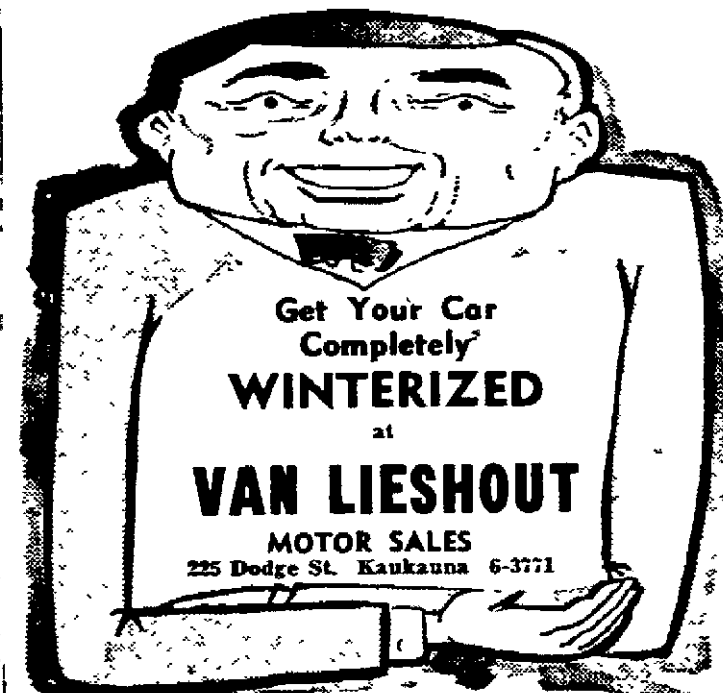

The shifts left the Braves with exactly the prescribed limit of 40. In addition to the 40, the Braves have three players who don't count on the team roster because of their national defense listing. They are catcher Ron Henry, southpaw Vic Rehm and right-hander Bob Giggie.

Warren Spahn Will Address Cattlemen

Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves.
When not pitching for the Braves, Spahn runs a 2,800-acre ranch north of Harts-horne, Okla.

Lawrence Will Face Carleton Team Saturday

last year finished sixth with 42.

Schmucker and Miner have accounted for six (three apiece) of the seven touchdowns scored against the Vikes in the last two seasons. In 1956, Carleton hammered out a 19-0 win, and last year, after seeing the Vikes strike boldly for the first score, came back for a 27-14 triumph. Miner logged 111 yards against the Vikes last year, while Schmucker gained 110.

Knights Close In

The two wins enabled Carleton to cut its all-time deficit against a Lawrence to 14-13. The Carls Saturday hope to follow the example of Coe in squaring the score. The league-leading Kohawks earlier this season evened its Lawrence series at 8-8.

However, the only team the Vikes trail in all-time MC play is St. Olaf. They meet the Oles in another Northfield excursion next month.

Lawrence's most recent victory over Carleton came in 6-0 upset in 1955.

Lawrence appears determined to come up with a better showing Saturday than it exhibited on its first road game of the season. The Vikes were thoroughly outplayed in a 25-8 loss to Grinnell.

Two Narrow Wins

Despite the presence of Schmucker and Miner, the Vikes aren't likely to be overawed by Carleton. For one thing, the Vikings came closer against unbeaten Coe than did co-second place Carleton. Coe beat the Knights, 14-0, and Lawrence, 14-6. Two of the Carls' three wins have been narrow affairs—14 to 7 over Grinnell and 27 to 21 over St. Olaf. Only in the Monmouth game (26-6) has Carleton had anything like an easy time.

Also, the Lawrence offense began percolating in the Ripon game and should become even better. The Vikes "opened up" against the Redmen with a new spread formation, to complement its "T" and single wing. The net result was 240 yards compared to only 140 in the Grinnell game.

Spearheading the Vike attack is sophomore Jim Schulze, who could be an effective retort to Schmucker. Schulze's 188 yards running and passing against Ripon matches or betters anything Schmucker has done in a single game.

Tackle Bill Weber suffered a slight ankle injury early in Wednesday's workout and joined guard Gil Sutherland—who was hurt in Saturday's game—on the sidelines. Both should be ready for some service against the Carls.

Weber is among the crew of tireless Vikes who have been 60-minute, or near 60-minute, men this season. Others include Carl Schwendler, Bob Smith, Gary Scovel and Jim Schulze.

One of the sophomores on the Carleton roster is center Jim Wink, a regular on the championship Appleton High school team in 1956.

Clemson QB Is AP Back of Week

By the Associated Press

For his brilliant field generalship, running and passing in guiding Clemson to two touchdowns in the last quarter and victory over Vanderbilt, Harvey White was voted the Back of the Week today.

The 6-2, 200-pound junior quarterback from Greenwood, S. C., won the weekly Associated Press laurels over such outstanding backs as Pete Dawkins of Army, Charlie Miltstead of Texas Aggies, Bob Brumble of Tulsa, Bobby Lackey of Texas, Joe Tranchini of Navy and Wray Carlton of Duke.

AHS Has Statistical Edge Over Oshkosh

Terrors' Franzke, Indians' Schoenberger Rank Among FRVC's Top Rushers

Appleton High school has a statistical edge over Oshkosh, its homecoming football opponent here Saturday.

The Terrors, in four games, have outdone the Indians in total offense (697 yards to 640), in passing (156 yards to 41), in total defense (81 yards to 1,005), in defense against rushing (564 yards to 790), in team passing (12 completions stream of hooks and jabs to win a unanimous decision. The 10-round welterweight bout, telecast nationally in the United States, attracted only about 1,800 in Montreal forum. Dupas gave away 7½ pounds, weighing 144½ to Turner's 152.

Dupas' shiftiness and speed confused the slower moving Philadelphian, whose attack was limited almost solely to swinging body blows that didn't appear to bother Dupas.

Dupas' snapping left and the sharp right hooks seemed to come from all directions on Turner, who was in trouble in the sixth and eighth rounds and appeared bewildered and uncertain. Dupas tried to set up his opponent for a knockout in the sixth but lacked the power to end the fight.

Dupas went into the fight the favorite although currently ranked No. 6, against No. 3 for Turner, in the National Boxing association welterweight rankings.

The unbeaten Green Bay East and West teams are monopolizing all major statistical departments.

Specialists Outline Plan To Hike Pork Production

Pacemaker Program Will Help Wisconsin Keep Up With Neighboring Producers

Plans to boost Wisconsin's place among pork producing states were outlined to northeastern Wisconsin farmers and county agents in Appleton Wednesday.

Discussing the new pacemaker program were Fred Giesler, University of Wisconsin swine specialist, and other college of agriculture representatives.

Although the state ranks seventh nationally, with 1.8 million head of swine on farms as of Jan. 1, 1958, Giesler said, it must hike production to keep pace with neighboring states. Hogs are second to dairying as the largest livestock enterprise in Wisconsin, he noted.

Sign Up Date
Working under a state committee, county committees will ask farmers to sign up for the initial pacemaker program by Jan. 1, 1959. Signing agreements will be both feeder pig and market hog producers. They will agree to meet standards set by the state committee, Giesler said.

Although the state plans to issue certificates to farmers who follow through with the program, primary reward for farmers will be increased hog prices, Giesler declared.

The university specialists said the program should be started with a small nucleus of producers.

Average litter weight for an entire feeder pig herd must be 320 pounds at eight weeks in order to meet pacemaker standards, Giesler said. Average litter weight for an entire market hog herd must be 1,500 pounds at five months. Fifty per cent of all hogs must grade U. S. No. 1 at market weight — about 200 pounds.

Norway Has Compact Sub Weapon

Oslo —(AP)— Norway today unveiled a new, compact anti-submarine weapon system small enough to be installed in ships down to 500 tons.

The system was developed by the Norwegian defense research establishment. It has been dubbed "Terne" (tern).

The defense department said 20 scientists and 20 technicians and mechanics worked on the problem of developing a weapon system capable of destroying fast modern submarines.

The department said U. S. military authorities offered assistance under the mutual weapons development program and that the navies of the United States and other NATO countries have shown great interest in the "Terne".

The frigate in which "Terne" is mounted has been at Key West, Fla., for extensive trials which could not be made in Norway.

The "Terne," described as largely automatic, was said to work this way:

A search sonar, which detects submarines by sound waves, takes over as the ship approaches the target. It determines the range, depth and direction of the enemy sub.

This information is fed into a predictor which automatically calculates the firing angles and aims a rocket launcher containing six rocket-propelled depth charges.

Withdraw Charge Of Drunkenness Against Soldiers

Edgewood, Md. —(AP)— The army has withdrawn drunkenness charges against 11 enlisted soldiers and will try them only on a disorderly conduct charge.

Brig. Gen. Harold Walmsley, commander of the army chemical center at Edgewood, ordered the deletion of the drunkenness charge Tuesday, acting on recommendation of the trial counsel, Lt. Walter V. Ferris Jr.

The action came after conference between army legal officers and Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney who is representing the 11 soldiers without fee.

Gen. Walmsley did not elaborate on why the drunkenness charge was dropped.

A special court martial was ordered after the 11 enlisted specialists were arrested at the Otter Point Boat club during a party for a departing comrade Sept. 25. The men were turned over to the army by state police after a nearby resident complained of the noise.

Oneida District Qualifies for Federal Aid

New Law Covers Students From Non-Taxable Lands

School District 2, town of Oneida, qualifies for federal aid under a law passed by congress during its last session, Henry J. Van Straten, Outagamie county school superintendent, said today.

The law provides aid to cover students whose parents live on non-taxable federal lands. About 50 per cent of the students attending the Oneida state graded school live on federal land, he stated.

Van Straten said it is not known how much money the district will receive. Up to now federal aid was based on average daily attendance and cost of operation each year. Aid probably will be paid on a flat rate under the new law, he reported.

The district must apply for aid by the middle of the school year, Van Straten said. The government will determine how much money the district is eligible for and final application will be made at the end of the year.

International Credit Union Day

Did you know? There are 728 credit unions in Wisconsin!
Madison is International headquarters for the credit union movement — serving 25,000 credit unions with 13,000,000 members in the world.

Millions of people throughout the world pay tribute to the credit union movement on this day. Credit unions are formed by and serve people in all walks of life, in many varied situations. They are people with a common bond — industrial, religious, educational, community and fraternal groups; saving together to provide each other with a source of low-cost credit. Savings are actually shares, and all earnings after expenses and necessary reserves are returned to the members. Loans are approved by a Credit Committee, elected by the membership, and credit unions charge an interest rate of no more than 1% per month on the unpaid balance. Members actually have and keep the controlling hand in the operation of their credit union.

If you would like to share the benefits of a credit union, see or call the friendly people in your local Chapter of Credit Unions. They'll be happy to assist you in joining or forming a credit union in your place of employment, church or neighborhood. Oh yes — for a pleasant way to find out more about credit unions, consider this your invitation to celebrate Credit Union Day with us.

ADDED CREDIT UNION BENEFITS

Most credit unions offer the services of the CUNA MUTUAL Insurance Society founded in 1935 by credit union people to serve only credit union people. The society offers these valuable services —

LOAN PROTECTION INSURANCE — cancels your insured credit union loan, up to $10,000, if you die or become totally and permanently disabled.

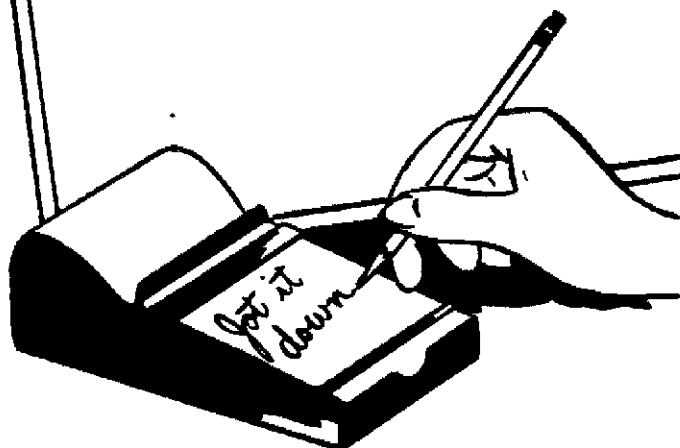

LIFE SAVINGS INSURANCE — provides life insurance in proportion to a member's savings. Ask about these benefits — provided at no additional charge!

CUNA MUTUAL is the credit union insurance company, owned and operated by and for credit union people.

Ghosts Hit by Injuries for Trucker Tilt

Coach Fred Barribeau Juggles Lineup for Friday Night Battle

Kaukauna — After suffering their first defeat in four conference football games, the "Galloping Ghosts of Kaukauna" High school will be relying on a patched line-up to regain the win column at Clintonville Friday night.

Coach Fred Barribeau has nine boys on the disabled list, five regulars and four first line replacements. Two first string backs are on the injured list and will not see action Friday. Gary Vanevenhoven, captain and quarterback who handled all passing chores, is out with an ankle injury and probably wouldn't be back until the final tilt with Neenah. Bob Wurdinger, frosh fullback but a starter, is out with a back injury.

Vanevenhoven was hurt in the Menasha game while Wurdinger was hurt in practice and has been kept out of all drills since. Jim Martzahl, left end, is still hampered by a leg injury. Tony Van Zealand, end and halfback is out with a hip injury and Ken Kavanagh, back, is sidelined with an infected nose injury.

Also out are Bruce Bay, Pete Bachhuber, Tim Eiting and Dave Engblom. The first two have been out since early in the season while Eiting, reserve end, and Engblom, reserve fullback, were injured in practice this week.

Kimberly Looks For 4th Straight Conference Win

Barribeau has been forced to juggle his lineup, moving a tackle to an end spot and installing Bill Britten at fullback from his regular post at half. Mark Nagan will take over as blocking back while Bruce Ludke and Jim Steger will be halfbacks. Fred Steger may also see duty in the latter post.

Terry Sharron has been moved from tackle to left end and Jim Kessler will take over the tackle spot. The remainder of the lineup will be about the same with John Essler at center, Dennis Burns and Doug Ludvigson at guard, Gary Nowack at tackle and Myron Zachowski at the right end spot.

Barribeau has been running his defensive unit against passes this week as the Truckers have a strong passing attack and count heavily on this weapon to score. Some work has also been done on the Ghost offense with newcomers anxious to prove their worth in a starting role, according to the coach.

City Nurse Now Certified in Public Nursing

Kaukauna — Mrs. Gertrude Nagel, city nurse, has been notified she has been certified in public health nursing by the state board of health and received a certification card signed by Dr. Carl N. Neupert, head of the state board of health.

She has been running a city nurse for a little over three years. is a 1938 graduate of Kaukauna High school Rockland Reynebeau, senior and a 1944 graduate of the Cook county School of Nursing, Chicago.

Efforts Made to Solve Grade Cage Loop Problems

Kaukauna — In an effort to solve some of the problems faced by grade schools participating in the Grade School Basketball league in Kaukauna, certain changes in league procedures were adopted.

The recreation department has assumed the job of furnishing referees for the league. Formerly the home school was required to secure officials for the games which were usually played on Saturday mornings. To permit more youths to participate, a third division was added. Divisions will be varsity, jayvee and B squad with the latter for boys in sixth grade and under.

Michael McGoeys has been appointed head referee and will work with league officials and the recreation department in scheduling referees for games. A written constitution and by-laws were adopted and tentative plans were made for a loop banquet and All Star game.

The league was organized 19 years ago by Guy Krumm, athletic director at the high school, and is supervised by the Athletic council. Persons involved in the league and its reorganization policy were: Ken Rohloff, president; Gene Ploetz, secretary - treasurer and publicity head, and Gerry Hopfensperger and James Gertz, honorary members of the advisory staff.

Grade school coaches this year will be Bill Knapp at St. Mary's, Jim Witt at Holy Cross, Gene Ploetz at Trinity Lutheran and Ken Rohloff at Park school.

KVS to Offer Course Geared For Industry

Basic Statistics To be Covered by U. of W. Professor

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna school of Vocational and Adult education, in cooperation with schools in Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly and Appleton, will offer a basic industrial statistics course beginning Oct. 29.

Course sections are planned from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. at either Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly or Appleton, depending on enrollment, and from 7 to 9 p. m. at the Kaukauna school. Classes will meet each Wednesday for eight consecutive weeks. A limit of 25 students per class has been set.

Registrations must be sent to the Kaukauna school prior to Oct. 23 and students will be notified where afternoon sections will be held. Prof. William Moy, industrial engineer, Department of Mechanical Engineering at the University of Wisconsin will be instructor.

Subject of the course will be practical application of statistics to industrial processes and will be useful in inventory and production control, time study, inspection, and quality control, according to Dominic Bordini, KVS director. Letters have been sent to personnel managers, engineering departments and statisticians in industries throughout the Fox Cities.

It will be shown during the course, said Bordini, that many actual problems in industry are adaptable to the statistical approach and that the results of this technique can provide tremendous savings in labor, materials, space, and processing costs.

Bumper Rice Crops Bring Malnutrition

BY TAK ISHII
Tokyo — Bumper rice crops mean malnutrition. That is a paradox Japan is trying to overcome.

A welfare ministry survey shows that one of four persons in Japan was suffering in 1937 from such nutritional diseases as beriberi, anemia and dropsy.

It warned that more and more people are reversing a postwar trend and returning to rice as their main source of food at the expense of valuable proteins, fats, vitamins and minerals.

Japan has enjoyed bumper rice crops for four years. This year the second highest harvest in history is expected.

After the war, the once shortlegged nation began to produce long limbed beauties and boys and girls taller and outweighing their parents.

New Diets Helped
School girls of 10 grew more than an inch taller than their sisters of the same age group before the war, and one pound heavier.

Dieticians and health officials credited the occupation-introduced dietary reforms—plus the postwar rice shortages.

But the welfare ministry said that since 1956 cases of vitamin B1 deficiency have increased.

It found 25.9 out of every 100 persons suffering from malnutrition last year. This was 3.3 persons more than in 1956. The rate of physical growth, both in rural and urban areas, has leveled off. The highest rate of growth was in 1955.

Rural children—who consume more rice—were found to be a quarter of an inch to three-quarters of an inch shorter than city children.

Kaukauna — In response to a call for members to form a science club at Kaukauna High school, many students came forward and expressed interest in furthering study in scientific fields through participation in club activities.

Roy Wentzel, instructor and club adviser, reported six students have already adopted specific plans for a science project. If successful, the projects will be entered in the Junior Academy of Science competition. Other projects are expected to be forthcoming as interest in the new club continues to grow.

Three Area Women Attend Handicapped Social Meeting

Kaukauna — Miss Dorothy Appleton, Kaukauna, Miss Ruth Boldt and Miss Lorna Sabrowsky, Appleton, were Fox Cities representatives at the Wisconsin Wawbeek Associated activity club meeting at Milwaukee over the weekend.

This was the third annual meeting and banquet for the state-wide social organization for the physically handicapped and their relatives and friends. Walter L. Merten, state senator from the Fifth district, Milwaukee, was a guest speaker and Bob Peck, past president of the Easter Seal society, served as master of ceremonies.

Plans were announced to hold the 1959 fall banquet in Appleton. Entertainment was provided by the Mazur Polish dancers of Milwaukee, the Sweet Adeline chorus from Waukesha, and William Hirst, pantomimist. The WWAAC was organized in 1955 at the Camp Wawbeek session. Purpose of the club besides the banquet and reunion meeting is to provide social activities and services for the handicapped, including the publishing of a semi-annual newspaper for the 360 members residing throughout the state.

An 11-member board governs the organization and Miss Appleton serves as first vice president. The weekend meeting was attended by about 200 persons.

Library Plans New Story Hour For Youngsters

Kaukauna — A story hour for children from three through five years old is being planned by Mrs. Nancy Smith, children's librarian, with the meetings to be held Thursday afternoons for the balance of the school year.

The librarian will read from children's books and project pictures from the book onto a screen to permit youngsters to view illustrations. The story hour will replace the Saturday morning session which was formerly held before remodeling work was completed at the library.

Mothers of youngsters must enroll children by calling the library and are requested to bring children to the library and remain there during the period. While the story hour is in progress, mothers will be permitted to browse through the adult section of the library. Tentative plans also call for discussion periods for mothers in a basement room or possibly the showing of movies. The initial hour will start at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Cary Grant First Movie Free-Lancer

Has Been on His Own Since 1938, Left Paramount

AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood—Cary Grant was the trailblazer of the new regime in the film industry.

"I was the first star to free-lance," Cary recalled. "It was back 1938 when I left Paramount. I had been doing pretty well there, but nothing sensational."

"Adolph Zukor wanted me to stay and he even offered to jump my salary from $2,500 a week to $3,500 instead of my next raise, $3,000. But I said no. I wasn't getting the kind of picture I wanted to do. If I stayed, I would be in the same position of having to take pictures that Gary Cooper, William Powell or Clive Brooks turned down."

In Demand
So Grant branched out on his own, and his services have been in demand by producers ever since. Largely a dramatic actor at Paramount, he established himself as the screen's best exponent of light comedy with films like "The Awful Truth," "Holiday" and "My Favorite Wife."

His asking price was $300,000 a picture, and there were plenty of takers.

"Even though I had no contract ties, I had a certain appeal to the studios," he said. "You take a place like MGM. It had a great stable of stars, but they had all played opposite each other before—Spencer Tracy with Lana Turner, Clark Gable with Jean Harlow."

"So it appealed to the studio bosses to bring this fellow in from the outside, no matter what they had to pay him. And that's how I got pictures like 'The Philadelphia Story.'"

Grant's bargaining power didn't diminish with the breakup of the studio contract player lists. In fact, he became an even greater draw with the public's concentration on fewer big-name stars.

So he can exact not only great salaries—$750,000 is a common offer for a film—but an increase in ownership of his increasing share in the ownership of his movies.

He owns 75 per cent of his current smash hit, "Indiscreet," and he'll take possession of the negative after eight years.

Talks Won't Deal in Conventional Arms

Nuclear Disarmament of Little Meaning if Other Weapons Stay

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington—The United States is about to enter a nuclear disarmament negotiation of immense and subtle danger to the free world at a very bad time and in circumstances that could hardly be worse.

These discussions, White said, are mainly between us, Great Britain and the Soviet Union, open in Geneva, Oct. 31. This will be on the eve of our congressional elections, which will cap a campaign where "peace" has been almost as powerful an issue as plenty.

The Eisenhower administration has long been under demands, sometimes from our allies and always from neutralists such as India, to agree to some unqualified step toward a permanent halt of nuclear tests.

Nevertheless, any long-term nuclear cessation could not possibly be in the true interests of the west unless it were accompanied—as it will not be—by Russian agreements for:

1. At least a start toward disarmament in old-fashioned weapons like tanks and aircraft and infantry. These can still kill people, though it is often forgotten.

Dependable Policing

2. A dependable international nuclear policing system. For the unpleasant fact is that in conventional arms the Russians are far more powerful than the west. They have perhaps 500 divisions of effective troops as against perhaps 100 at most for the west. And they occupy a massive continental position as against the dispersed positions of the west.

Thus the Soviet Union could enter nuclear disarmament in good faith and still wind up with an intolerable military imbalance on its side.

Many here and in western Europe choose not to look at this harsh reality—but this averting of heads will not make it go away.

This view is held here—though rarely expressed—by somber facts as Winston Churchill told them to Brit-peace or cherish atomic fall-ain when Hitler was rising. out, and do not really see a communist under every bed. ready. rus would in any case insist that everybody lay down the atomic weapon at once. But India—and others like India—has a thoroughly honorable but thoroughly foolish obsession against power itself. Many, here and abroad, would not be willing so fearfully to mortgage their own security if only they knew the essential truth.

This is a job for a great professional politician with the skill to persuade masses of people to accept the sweat of avoiding the tears.

Here is an opportunity to head the unpopularity ticket as of 1958 — but perhaps to help save the world as of 1968. This is the hour for some American, or simply western, politician to rise and tell the truth.

And it may be too late already for the Russians to be seen to indicate they anticipate an cold war.

Moviemakers Turn Talents to Comedies

Hilarious 'No Time for Sergeants,' 'Indiscreet' Start Welcome Deluge

Comedies are back in style, hurrah! I've been campaigning for them all these years and now the laugh-getters are with us again.

The trend started with two Warners winners, "No Time for Sergeants" and "Indiscreet." More are following.

Cary Grant continues the trend with "Houseboat" and it's a return to the warm family comedies that have been scarce in recent times. Sophia Loren makes her best impression to date as the Italian girl who takes over as nurse for Grant's three children. It should be a winner.

James Stewart gets his first comedy in years with "Bell, Book and Candle," a merry romp into the occult world. How can you miss with this cast: Jack Lemmon, Elsa Lanchester, Ernie Kovacs, Hermione Gingold and Kim Novak as a reluctant witch? It's slick and modern and full of laughs.

Promised and hoped for: Roz Russell's "Auntie Mame," hard man to beat in the Oscar derby. The picture is a 20th Century-Fox offering.

Leo McCarey's "Rally Round the Flag," Billy Wilder's "Some Like It Hot," "The Mating Game" with Debbie Reynolds and Tony Randall, Bob Hope's "Alias Jesse James" and others.

The Oscar race is swinging into high gear and soon the year-end epics will be unveiled for the finals. The contender that wins the most respect, though no one has seen it yet, is "The Diary of Anne Frank." George Stevens is always a

Thomas Show Jumped From 107th to 7th

New York —(P)— Danny Thomas, back for his sixth year on television, has known sharp ups and downs.

Two years ago his program was listed 107th in an audience rating survey. Last year, it placed seventh.

This year—well, he's optimistic because he feels his show is better than it ever was.

"It's very comfortable to be in 107th place," Thomas said the other day. "You rock along, quite relaxed, and say to everybody, 'The trouble is that we're in the wrong time slot. It's not only timing but the time slot that counts in television. It's not our fault, it's the fault of the time. After all, look at the awards we've won.'"

Summoned Psychiatrists
"Well, all of a sudden Tom McDermott of the Benton and Bowles advertising agency grabbed hold of 'The Danny Thomas Show' and said he was going to move it into the Monday night time slot being deserted by Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz—the most popular show on the air.

"Everybody thought Tom was mad. Even I did. They ranned him and put ice packs on his head and sent out for psychiatrists, but he wouldn't budge in his determination to put us in that Monday spot. And he did."

"I was shaking like a leaf," Thomas shook like a leaf. "Now what excuse would I have for not being in the top 10?"

He had no excuse. He didn't need one. Because he and his show landed in the top 10.

Spotlight Safe
Thomas said that this year "We're tentatively feeling our way toward introducing new characters into the show. Our aim, as it always has been, is to make a viewer feel 'This happened to me.' Our story and humor interests are representative of family interests."

To this end it's highly probable that a new teenager will be introduced into his program family some time this year—though how it will be done is not yet certain.

"The Danny Thomas Show" will have quite a few guests this season—and Thomas sees no problem in a supply of guests. "We can get any guest who wants me," he said, "and we have a pretty good reputation in the guest department because we've never stolen the spotlight from one."

New Book Finds Science Fun In Backyards

How to find science adventures in the backyard is the subject of a book added this week to the children's room of the Appleton Public Library.

"Science in Your Own Backyard" by Cooper is among new volumes ready for circulation Saturday.

The list also includes "Busy Water" by Black, "Joel Gets a Dog" by Corcos, "Little Bear's Sunday Breakfast" by Brustlein, "Thomas, the Ship's Cat" by Baker, "The Bright High Flyer" by Baker, "Cappy and the Jet Engine" by Bradley.

"Slide, Danny, Slide" by Christopher, "The Land Is Bright" by Kjeldgaard, "To Nick From Jan" by Latham, "The Navajo" by Bleeker, "The Long White Road" by Albert, "Make Your Own Musical Instruments" by Mandell, "See Through the Lake" by Selsam, and "Your Food and You" by Zim.

Toothpaste Technique
Des Moines —(P)— Robert R. Moore, rehabilitation counselor for the Iowa commission for the blind, who has been blind all his life, was asked how he manages to squirt toothpaste onto his toothbrush with any accuracy.

The answer: He doesn't. Moore says he squirts the toothpaste onto his tongue, then puts it on the brush. He says the tip of the tongue is sensitive enough to tell you how much toothpaste you're getting.

What Young People Think

Teenagers Distrust Russia, Egypt; Vote England, France Trustworthy

BY EUGENE GILBERT

Most American teenagers distrust Russia, but do not think there will be another world war.

"Not in our time, please God," said 16-year-old Daria Krevitz, Brooklyn, N. Y. "We humans want to continue to exist."

Two-thirds of the teenagers questioned — in a survey taken just before Red Chinese guns began pounding Quemoy — agreed with Daria.

Most of them pinned their hopes on the United Nations and the desire of people in other nations for peace.

Descriptions of a world desolated by new atomic weapons have made a deep impression on young minds.

Battle Russia

The three out of every 10 teenagers who do believe war is coming are nearly unanimous in believing the battle will be with Russia.

Even the youngsters who don't think a third world war is in prospect indicated a deep distrust of Russia and her satellites. Three-fourths of the teenagers put the gigantic Soviet Union right at the top of the least trustworthy nations in the world.

Generally, the teenagers reflected their parents' convictions that the Russians can't be trusted, that they want to dominate the world and sweep over the United States — forcefully or by subversion.

Twelve per cent of the teenagers found Egypt the least trustworthy nation.

Britain's Okay

Teenagers can't remember World War II—but plenty of them still don't trust Germany. Eight per cent of the interviewed teenagers were sure that even if Russia doesn't jump us, the Germans will.

This distrust of Germany contrasted surprisingly with the willingness teenagers showed to trust Japan. In fact, three per cent rated Japan as the most trustworthy nation in the world.

"With their experiences of U. S. strength, I'd trust them before any other nation," said Mildred Trio, St. Louis "Japan has learned its lesson."

The teenagers were not so well agreed on who to trust as they were on who should not be trusted. The biggest vote—51 per cent—went to Great Britain and her dominions.

The pro-British teenagers felt a common background and common language made a real bond with the United States. Many expressed a feeling of confidence in the traditional British fair play.

The second most popular nation is France. The teenagers admired French gallantry in World War II and the French traditions of freedom. The opinion of 14 per cent of interviewed teenagers appeared to be that France is a little odd, but okay.

Gerald R. Batzler, 23, 1409 W. Commercial street, whose car crashed into the Appleton Cooperative association building at 1910 W. Wisconsin avenue early Saturday morning, was fined $200 this morning in municipal court after he pleaded guilty of reckless driving.

Batzler, who also had his license revoked for six months, was driving north on N. Badger avenue when his car skidded about 130 feet across W. Advance of Steels

And Coppers Halts

On New York Market

New York —P— The stock market declined early this afternoon and an upward move by coppers and steels fizzled.

It was the market's third straight day of reaction from record highs.

Trading was heavy in the first hour with the ticker tape late for periods of six and eight minutes. Turnover moderated but still remained active as prices declined.

The action followed a federal reserve board boost in margin requirements for stock purchases to 90 per cent from 70 per cent—a move to restrict credit which Wall Street has been speculating about for some weeks.

The margin hike came with reports that net debit balances of New York Stock Exchange member firms' customers rose to the highest level since November, 1931. This represents the amount of money owed to brokers by customers who have bought on margin.

Major steels showed a string of small plus signs at the start but as the market declined U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin were down a full point or more.

These Maps, Based on Those supplied by the U. S. Weather bureau, forecast the probable rainfall and temperatures for the next 30 days.

Issue Report on Cash Dividends

Washington —P— Corporations paid cash dividends of $1,638,000,000 in September, the commerce department said today. This represented a 2 per cent drop from payments of $1,672,000,000 a year ago.

Much of the decrease was concentrated in mining and metal manufacturing firms. Most other manufacturing groups and the railroads also reduced their payments. Partially offsetting increases were reported by oil refining, public utility and finance corporations.

For the first nine months of this year, dividend payments of $8,200,000,000 were down 1 per cent from a year earlier.

See 30 Days Of Warm, Fall Weather

Fox Cities residents today took a deep breath of warm, fall air, squinted in the sunlight and looked ahead to 30 more days of higher than seasonal temperatures.

The United States Weather bureau said the only exceptions to its optimistic outlook will be in the areas east of the Appalachians, along the Gulf coast and in the Pacific northwest.

Meanwhile, temperatures remained mild throughout Wisconsin. The highest reading in Appleton Wednesday was 75 and the overnight low was 57. The temperature at 11 o'clock this morning was an even 60.

Some fog drifted into the Fox Cities overnight but it was not as heavy as other evenings. The weather station at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company recorded no precipitation overnight.

The weather bureau's long range forecast held one note which should cause some thought, however. It said: "There are some indications of a sharp break in the prevailing warm regime, perhaps during the first half of November, but it is too early to specify the nature of the new weather pattern."

So, lest we forget, there's cold weather coming.

Byrnes Warns Of Federal Extravagance

Fears Economy Will Collapse Under Huge Debt

Rep. John Byrnes (R-Green Bay) Wednesday night called for a "people's crusade against federal extravagance, spending and debt."

The Eighth district congressman spoke to about 50 members of the Sales Executive Club of Northeastern Wisconsin at the Morris Golf club.

A congress that will halt reckless spending to avoid financial disaster is a must," he said. "Unless we send to congress men who will refuse to buy votes by promising more and more spending, we are in for the greatest deterioration of our dollar in history."

Byrnes pointed out that congress had appropriated nearly $14 billion more than is anticipated in revenue and had raised the limit on the national debt.

Need Radical Change "Unless there is a radical change, runaway inflation and complete control of the economy will become the order of the day. Our American economy will collapse and our influence in the world will disappear. Then we will have far worse things to worry about than Formosa, Little Rock, Sputnik or recessions," he continued.

Byrnes, who is seeking reelection in the Nov. 4 election against Democrat Milo Singler, shouted, urged his listeners to get out and do some active political work.

He said local governments have become so used to federal aid they seldom undertake any project without first inquiring if they can get some help from Washington.

List Four Areas Asked where he favored cutting federal spending, Byrnes named four areas. They are:

- 1-Aid to municipalities to build sewage treatment plants.
- 2-Federal aid for practices that cut stream pollution. This has slowed up individual effort to fight the problem on a local level, he said.
- 3-Federal aid to states and localities for special programs. They could carry on their own programs much more efficiently on a local level, he contended.
- 4-Farm subsidies. "It's time we gave the farmers some freedom. The government shouldn't tell them what they can get for their product."

Sputnik Rocket Will be Visible

The rocket carrier of Russia's Sputnik III made two passes over the midwest early today but cloudy skies in the Fox Cities area made visibility very poor.

The carrier is scheduled to be visible in the area again at about 4:20 a.m. Friday, 4:40 a.m. Saturday and at 3:21 a.m. and 4:59 a.m. Sunday.

Bee Sting Fatal

Muskegon, Mich. — The sting of a bee proved fatal Tuesday to Louis McPherson, 28, of Muskegon township.

Hospital officials said McPherson died from the shock of the bee stinger which apparently carried a pollen to which the victim was allergic.

However, he added, federal aid to farmers could not be cut out all at once.

On social security, Byrnes said he favored keeping benefit payments on a level where they will buy goods equivalent to what was intended when the program started. He said pressure for further increases would stop when the full tax load was felt.
